Please, General, order me in right away. While your press section is pending organization, how about giving me my commission and detailing me in the Herald or as liaison officer of your with the Commonwealth?

I feel so futile looking in from the outside. Only comrades now refuse to serve. I want to be where I can be of effective help against the dirty Japs.

I have already been twice with the Chief of Staff of the Philippine Army advising him of the availability of my services. I am really very anxious to do something for victory, and it would be the greatest honor and pride of my life to be under your command.

The sender, the addressee and GLOBE WIRELESS LTD. agree that all messages are subject to the condition that GLOBE WIRELESS LTD. accepts, transmits and delivers all messages subject to the following terms and conditions:

To guard against mistakes, or delays, the sender of every radiogram or message should order it repeated; that is, telegraphed back to the original office for comparison. The additional charge for this service is one-half the tolls of an unrepeat message.

Unless otherwise indicated on its face, this is an UNREPEATED RADIOGRAM AND PAID FOR AS SUCH, in consideration whereof it is agreed between the sender of the message and this company as follows:

1. The company shall not be liable for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-transmission, or for non-delivery, of any message received for transmission at the unrepeat message rate in any amount in excess of the actual damage sustained, but in no event, whether such mistake, delay or non-delivery is caused by the negligence of its servants or otherwise beyond the sum of FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS for unrepeat messages; nor for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-transmission, or for non-delivery, of any message received for transmission at the repeat message rate, in any amount in excess of the actual damages sustained, but in no event, beyond the sum of FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS, except as hereinafter provided. The sender may secure an increase in the limit of the company's liability above the sums of five hundred and five thousand dollars, respectively, by paying to the company at the time of filing the message for transmission, a sum equivalent to one-tenth of one per cent of the amount of increased limit of liability sought by the sender. A receipt will be given to the sender for the amount of such payment made by him and will recite the increased limit of liability of the Company for which the payment is made.

2. The company shall not be liable in any case for delays arising from unavoidable interruption in the working of its circuits; nor for delays or errors caused by storms or the action of the elements, or other acts of God, or by civil or military authorities, or by insurrection, riots, rebellions, strikes, or the unlawful acts of individuals.

3. No responsibility attaches to this Company concerning the transmission of messages until the same are accepted at one of its transmitting offices. If a message or intended message is sent to such office by a messenger supplied by the Company, the Company will be responsible for the carrying from the sender to the transmitting office but not for the correctness of the text; any such message or intended message may be refused transmission if upon examination at the transmitting office it is found to be not in proper form or not acceptable under the terms of any tariffs of the Company on file with the Public Service Commission or with any other governmental bodies having jurisdiction over rates and regulations concerning radiotelegrams, or if it is not acceptable because of any laws or regulations of governmental bodies having jurisdiction over the acceptance and transmission of radiotelegrams, or if the message is not accompanied by sufficient money for payment of tolls thereof in cases where the sender does not have an account with the Company in good standing. If a message is sent to such office by a messenger supplied by the sender the messenger acts for that purpose as the agent of the sender. If the message is sent to the transmitting office by telephone, telegraph, telephone company teletypewriter or any other device, the Company may refuse to accept the message for transmission for any of the reasons given herein. The Company accepts no responsibility for the correctness of messages transmitted to the transmitting office when such transmission is by the sender or his agent or anyone other than an employee of the Company.

4. This Company shall not be liable for damages or statutory penalties in any case where the claim is not presented to it in writing within sixty days after the message is filed with the company for transmission.

5. In no case is this agreement to be construed as a contract for the benefit of the third person and no one other than the sender or addressee hereof is entitled to rely upon anything herein contained.

6. The terms and conditions set forth shall be binding upon the addressee as well as upon the sender of this message.

7. Special terms governing the transmission of messages under specific classes of messages handled shall apply to messages in each of such respective classes in addition to the foregoing terms.

8. The Company is hereby made the agent of the sender, without liability, to forward this message to the stations, or over the circuits or lines of any other company or communications agency when necessary to reach its destination. This Company shall not be liable in any case for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-transmission, or for non-delivery, of any message beyond its own terminals.

Dear General MacArthur:

I want to congratulate you on your magnificent work in the Philippines and on your re-promotion to the grade of general.

Since our horseback trip to the summit of Pikes Peak in 1896, I have watched, with interest and pride, your career as, by sheer force of industry and ability, you have reached the top twice.

More power to you now. And may God help you in your struggle against such heavy odds.
I hope it may not be necessary to abandon you to your fate.

Sincerely yours

J. Jamerson

Dear General MacArthur:

With a full heart I congratulate you on your latest promotion. The fact in itself is a great honour, as Propaganda, it is marvellous. You cannot tell your plans to the world, but the people who have a right to know them, have told the world what they think of your leadership.

I thank you for your invitation to the historic ceremony of to-morrow, at [redacted] and God willing, I shall be there.

As ever,

Yours devotedly,

Archbishop of Manila.

My dear General McArthur.

I wish to congratulate you and tell you how proud your father would be.

My husband was one of seven men chosen to go with your father on a skirmish during the Spanish American war at Manila. He said your father was the bravest man he ever saw as he stood next to him with the musket bullets flying all around.

They tell me my husband was brave. I know if he had a job to do he would see it through.

He always frowned any praise

but I know it made him happy.

If our praise and appreciation of you and your father can give you a little happiness at this sad time I shall be very glad.

My dear General McArthur:

If I was greatly delighted before when you were appointed as Lieutenant General, I am many folds more delighted now upon your most deserved promotion to a full General, especially because we are actually at war against the axis-power. Your command inspires complete confidence and fortitude to all. Let me, therefore, convey to you my heartiest congratulations, but due to your multifarious paramount duties, please do not bother to answer this note.

Most sincerely yours,

My dear General MacArthur:-

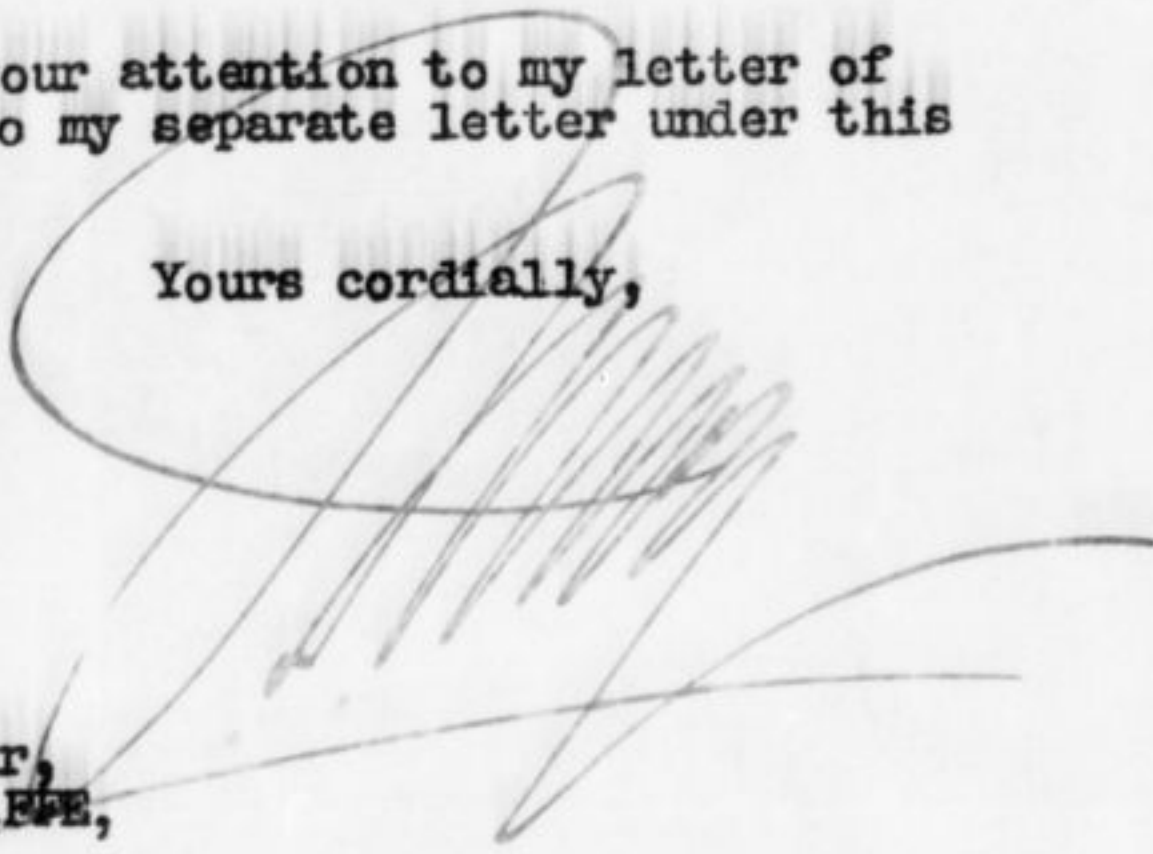

It gives me not only great pleasure but much pride to tender you my hearty congratulations upon being again appointed full General.

Your remarkable work since being called back to active duty and particularly your handling of the situation since the 8th instant has created a feeling of confidence which is not only local but has spread across the world and undoubtedly was one of the reasons which prompted the President to nominate you and the Senate to so speedily approve your appointment.

My father, mother and sister join me in these greetings.

Permit me to call your attention to my letter of December 18, 1941, and to my separate letter under this cover.

Yours cordially,

General Douglas MacArthur,

The sender, the addressee and GLOBE WIRELESS LTD. agree that all messages are subject to the condition that GLOBE WIRELESS LTD. accepts, transmits and delivers all messages subject to the following terms and conditions:

To guard against mistakes, or delays, the sender of every radiogram or message should order it repeated; that is, telegraphed back to the original office for comparison. The additional charge for this service is one-half the tolls of an unrepeat message.

Unless otherwise indicated on its face, this is an UNREPEATED RADIOGRAM AND PAID FOR AS SUCH, in consideration whereof it is agreed between the sender of the message and this company as follows:

1. The company shall not be liable for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-transmission, or for non-delivery, of any message received for transmission at the unrepeat message rate in any amount in excess of the actual damage sustained, but in no event, whether such mistake, delay or non-delivery is caused by the negligence of its servants or otherwise beyond the sum of FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS for unrepeat messages; nor for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-transmission, or for non-delivery, of any message received for transmission at the repeat message rate, in any amount in excess of the actual damages sustained, but in no event, beyond the sum of FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS, except as hereinafter provided. The sender may secure an increase in the limit of the company's liability above the sums of five hundred and five thousand dollars, respectively, by paying to the company at the time of filing the message for transmission, a sum equivalent to one-tenth of one per cent of the amount of increased limit of liability sought by the sender. A receipt will be given to the sender for the amount of such payment made by him and will recite the increased limit of liability of the Company for which the payment is made.

2. The company shall not be liable in any case for delays arising from unavoidable interruption in the working of its circuits; nor for delays or errors caused by storms or the action of the elements, or other acts of God, or by civil or military authorities, or by insurrection, riots, rebellions, strikes, or the unlawful acts of individuals.

3. No responsibility attaches to this Company concerning the transmission of messages until the same are accepted at one of its transmitting offices. If a message or intended message is sent to such office by a messenger supplied by the Company, the Company will be responsible for the carrying from the sender to the transmitting office but not for the correctness of the text: any such message or intended message may be refused transmission if upon examination at the transmitting office it is found to be not in proper form or not acceptable under the terms of any tariffs of the Company on file with the Public Service Commission or with any other governmental bodies having jurisdiction over rates and regulations concerning radiotelegrams, or if it is not acceptable because of any laws or regulations of governmental bodies having jurisdiction over the acceptance and transmission of radiotelegrams, or if the message is not accompanied by sufficient money for payment of tolls thereof in cases where the sender does not have an account with the Company in good standing. If a message is sent to such office by a messenger supplied by the sender the messenger acts for that purpose as the agent of the sender. If the message is sent to the transmitting office by telephone, telegraph, telephone company teletypewriter or any other device, the Company may refuse to accept the message for transmission for any of the reasons given herein. The Company accepts no responsibility for the correctness of messages transmitted to the transmitting office when such transmission is by the sender or his agent or anyone other than an employee of the Company.

4. This Company shall not be liable for damages or statutory penalties in any case where the claim is not presented to it in writing within sixty days after the message is filed with the company for transmission.

5. In no case is this agreement to be construed as a contract for the benefit of the third person and no one other than the sender or addressee hereof is entitled to rely upon anything herein contained.

6. The terms and conditions set forth shall be binding upon the addressee as well as upon the sender of this message.

7. Special terms governing the transmission of messages under specific classes of messages handled shall apply to messages in each of such respective classes in addition to the foregoing terms.

8. The Company is hereby made the agent of the sender, without liability, to forward this message to the stations, or over the circuits or lines of any other company or communications agency when necessary to reach its destination. This Company shall not be liable in any case for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-transmission, or for non-delivery, of any message beyond its own terminals.

9. No employee of the company is authorized to vary the foregoing terms.

My dear General MacArthur:

Thank you very much for lending me the most interesting description of early days in the Philippines. I lived again the thrilling adventures of Gironiere and I admire so very much the intellectual curiosity, the daring, and the recording ability of the author. I was particularly interested in his lament at Jala Jala when he talked of the land bedewed with blood, sweat, and tears.

In returning this book I wish to add to my thanks for your thoughtfulness my congratulations on your well-merited promotion. Everyone of us is with you to the very limit of his abilities to support you in the tremendous task which is entrusted to your competent care.

Shanghai, China
51 Canton Road Tel. 15036

The sender, the addressee and GLOBE WIRELESS LTD. agree that all messages are subject to the condition that GLOBE WIRELESS LTD. accepts, transmits and delivers all messages subject to the following terms and conditions:

To guard against mistakes, or delays, the sender of every radiogram or message should order it repeated; that is, telegraphed back to the original office for comparison. The additional charge for this service is one-half the tolls of an un-repeated message.

Unless otherwise indicated on its face, this is an UNREPEATED RADIOGRAM AND PAID FOR AS SUCH, in consideration whereof it is agreed between the sender of the message and this company as follows:

1. The company shall not be liable for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-transmission, or for non-delivery, of any message received for transmission at the un-repeated message rate in any amount in excess of the actual damage sustained, but in no event, whether such mistake, delay or non-delivery is caused by the negligence of its servants or otherwise beyond the sum of FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS for un-repeated messages; nor for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-transmission, or for non-delivery, of any message received for transmission at the repeated message rate, in any amount in excess of the actual damages sustained, but in no event, beyond the sum of FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS, except as hereinafter provided. The sender may secure an increase in the limit of the company's liability above the sums of five hundred and five thousand dollars, respectively, by paying to the company at the time of filing the message for transmission, a sum equivalent to one-tenth of one per cent of the amount of increased limit of liability sought by the sender. A receipt will be given to the sender for the amount of such payment made by him and will recite the increased limit of liability of the Company for which the payment is made.

2. The company shall not be liable in any case for delays arising from unavoidable interruption in the working of its circuits; nor for delays or errors caused by storms or the action of the elements, or other acts of God, or by civil or military authorities, or by insurrection, riots, rebellions, strikes, or the unlawful acts of individuals.

3. No responsibility attaches to this Company concerning the transmission of messages until the same are accepted at one of its transmitting offices. If a message or intended message is sent to such office by a messenger supplied by the Company, the Company will be responsible for the carrying from the sender to the transmitting office but not for the correctness of the text: any such message or intended message may be refused transmission if upon examination at the transmitting office it is found to be not in proper form or not acceptable under the terms of any tariffs of the Company on file with the Public Service Commission or with any other governmental bodies having jurisdiction over rates and regulations concerning radiotelegrams, or if it is not acceptable because of any laws or regulations of governmental bodies having jurisdiction over the acceptance and transmission of radiotelegrams, or if the message is not accompanied by sufficient money for payment of tolls thereof in cases where the sender does not have an account with the Company in good standing. If a message is sent to such office by a messenger supplied by the sender the messenger acts for that purpose as the agent of the sender. If the message is sent to the transmitting office by telephone, telegraph, telephone company teletypewriter or any other device, the Company may refuse to accept the message for transmission for any of the reasons given herein. The Company accepts no responsibility for the correctness of messages transmitted to the transmitting office when such transmission is by the sender or his agent or anyone other than an employee of the Company.

4. This Company shall not be liable for damages or statutory penalties in any case where the claim is not presented to it in writing within sixty days after the message is filed with the company for transmission.

5. In no case is this agreement to be construed as a contract for the benefit of the third person and no one other than the sender or addressee hereof is entitled to rely upon anything herein contained.

6. The terms and conditions set forth shall be binding upon the addressee as well as upon the sender of this message.

7. Special terms governing the transmission of messages under specific classes of messages handled shall apply to messages in each of such respective classes in addition to the foregoing terms.

8. The Company is hereby made the agent of the sender, without liability, to forward this message to the stations, or over the circuits of any other company or communications agency when necessary to reach its destination. This Company shall not be liable in any case for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-transmission, or for non-delivery, of any message beyond its own terminals.

9. No employee of the company is authorized to vary the foregoing terms.

My dear General —

Under separate cover

I am writing you at some length - to tell you what I am doing - but this note is to introduce Vincent Shelan - whom you probably know by name as author
and foreign correspondent.
I thought you might be interested in talking with him as he knows the British scene and by the time he reaches you he will have had a view of the Far East.

I am delighted to hear
of the fine work you are doing and I hope to see you before too long.

I am sure you and Irene will find much

Dec. 31 - 1941.

General MacArthur.

Dear Sir:

Am sending your birthday greetings for Jan. 26.

Shall think of you after that day - it is also my birthday -

I was born Jan. 26 - 1871.

In my genealogy I have Arthur

McArthur born Glasgow Jan. 26

1815. This must have been your grandfather. I thought it strange the birth date was the same as mine - Now there are three -

Stranger still my name was Clara McArthur. Shall pray for your safety and victory. Cordially yours
