A.I.B. Personnel,
Attn: Major
Russell.

1. Apparently a request for the release of an officer assigned to this Bureau for duty has become lost. I am therefore repeating it and in as much as there is over-~~due~~ need for action in the matter, I suggest expedition.

2. It is asked that GUILLERMO M. ROMILLO, 0888255, be released from Allied Intelligence Bureau for duty and return to Miscellaneous Section, USAFFE for reassignment.

3. Subject officer has requested that he be reassigned to his old outfit, Ship and Gun Crew, Command No. 1, for duty with Army Transport Corps, Base Section No. 3. Subject officer tells me that C.O. Army Transport Corps has been consulted on the matter and will welcome the return of this officer to his command.

20 July 1943

1. Because of special responsibilities being entrusted to him in the fulfillment of a mission directed by this Headquarters, and because the mission requires an officer of the rank of first lieutenant for its operation, it is requested that:

Guillermo M. Romillo, O-838255, Second Lieutenant, assigned Headquarters Company, USAFFE, for duty with A.I.B., be promoted to the next higher grade.

2. Lieutenant Romillo was sworn into the Army of the United States August 8, 1942, with the rank of second lieutenant. Prior to that time he was second officer aboard a Philippine vessel which had been acting as blockade runner to relieve Bataan.

3. It is desired to point out that there is a limited time available for accomplishing certain tasks in connection with the mission mentioned in paragraph 1, and that therefore the promotion should be effected with the least practicable delay.

Philippine Journal

January 21, 1943

I was born at Aparri, Cagayan, Philippine Islands, on October 2, 1901. My father was at the time engaged in the lumber business. Unfortunately I never knew my elders. My mother died a month after I was born, and my father went, too, when I was four years old. From that time on my uncle, brother of my father, took me into his care and sent me to school.

When I graduated from high school in 1919, I got on board a ship as an apprentice. In 1925 I sat for my third mate examinations. I qualified and from that time on I never left the sea. In 1924, prior to my sitting for the examinations, I got married, and have now a daughter aged 16, residing now with my wife at Cebu City, Philippine Is.

I embarked on several ships during my career, and it was while on the "Don Isidro" that war was declared against Japan and we were made a transport ship. We came to Australia from the Philippines on December 15, 1941, arriving at Perth on December 24, 1941. We left Perth for Brisbane where we loaded war cargo for the Philippines. On our way to the Philippines we passed by Perth to refuel and then proceeded to Batavia for instructions and to join another ship, the "Florence D", also bound on the same mission.

On February 19, 1942, both the ships were sunk by enemy action in the Arafura sea, about 80 miles Northwest of Darwin. Those of us who were fortunate to survive came to Melbourne and then proceeded to Brisbane, where we were enlisted as privates in the Philippine Army. Later, in June, 1942, we received our commissions. On August 7, 1942, we were inducted into the AUS and since served in New Guinea in the T.C.
