My dear Dr. Rotor:

Reference is made to your letter of 12 December 1944, requesting elucidation as to why your requisition for medical supplies for the San Isidro area, Leyte, was disapproved whereas your requisition for food supplies for the same area was approved.

For the first few months of re-occupation, minimum quantities of civilian supplies and other militarily necessary items were requisitioned, based on that portion of the civilian population who will come in contact with our forces. Consequently until such time as sufficient relief medical supplies become available for other areas, we shall have to use our available stocks within the perimeter of active military operations.

Your requisition for food supplies was approved because ample stock of this item was available.

Sincerely yours,

COURTNEY WHITNEY,
Colonel, Air Corps,
Chief, Civil Affairs Section.

A.P.O. 500,
2 December 1944.

Dear Doctor Rotor;

I am handing you herewith a memorandum of Doctor Howard F. Smith of 30 November 1944 concerning the responsibility and accountability for relief medical supplies turned over to hospitals under the operational control of the Commonwealth Government.

I would appreciate it if you would call this matter to the attention of President Owens with particular respect to the recommendations contained in paragraph three thereof. At the same time I would suggest that it would be appropriate for some representative of the President to discuss this matter personally with Colonel Smith to the end that a satisfactory arrangement be arrived at.

Sincerely,

Courtney Whitney,
Colonel, Air Corps.

Secretary to the President
of the Commonwealth Government

30 November 1944

MEMORANDUM TO: Colonel Courtney Whitney.

FROM : Colonel H. F. Smith.

SUBJECT : Responsibility and Accountability for Relief Medical Supplies.

1. Accountability and responsibility for relief medical supplies are established by prescribed regulations from the time the goods leave the supply depot until they are received by the PCAU supply officer. However, no provisions exist for the continuance of such accountability and responsibility when the PCAU supply officer releases supplies and equipment to local or newly-opened hospitals and dispensaries which are operated by local doctors employed as PCAU assistants.

2. Whereas no definite plans have been published with regards to the reimbursement of the relief medical supplies used in the Philippines, it becomes pertinent that a policy be adapted whereby responsibility and accountability can be definitely established when these supplies are turned over to local hospitals and dispensaries. It is not contemplated to hold the PCAU supply officer responsible or accountable for these supplies because:

a. It is physically impossible for him to watch and keep an account of all the supplies;

b. He might be transferred to another territory when his unit moves, and;

c. These supplies will be turned over to, and remain the property of the Philippine Commonwealth Government for the continuance of facilities for civilian medical care when the military moves out and/or when the former assumes complete administrative control of the area.

3. The following plan is therefore recommended to effect a simple and continuous channel of responsibility and accountability when relief medical supplies are released to local hospitals and dispensaries;

a. Relief medical supplies will be released to local or newly-opened hospitals and dispensaries by the PCAU supply officer upon recommendation of the PCAU medical officer.

b. The PCAU supply officer will release medical supplies to local hospitals and dispensaries through a duly authorized representative of the Philippine Commonwealth Government who will sign an itemized receipt for the same. From then on the Philippine Commonwealth Government assumes responsibility and accountability for the supplies issued.

c. If, during the initial or subsequent phase of reoccupation, the Philippine Commonwealth Government does not have a duly authorized representative to receive the supplies in the area, the relief medical supplies will be issued and used as intended until such time as the Commonwealth representative arrives or one appointed, when the provisions of paragraph 3 b will be carried out.

Dear Doctor Rotor:

The Commander-in-Chief has directed that the inclosed message be brought to the attention of President Osena. He feels that in it is reflected a splendid spirit on the part of the people of Manila - a recognition that certain sacrifice is inevitably the price of liberation and a readiness to pay that price.

Sincerely,

Courtney Whitney,
Colonel, Air Corps.

Secretary to the President
