AP Washington 28 Dec: State Dept officials conceded tonight that the tug of war between the US and the Soviet Union over Korea has almost hopelessly stalled chances for early unification of that country and has resulted in a bitter struggle in which Russia has some advantage. The officials also reported, in a NBC radio program, that American aims in Korea have reached a critical point, with complete defeat in prospect unless food and rehabilitation are supplied promptly in the American Zone. Edwin M Martin, Chief of the Division of Japanese and Korean Economic Affairs, declared that "All of the Far East is watching the performance of 'The American way' in Korea. The deciding factor between success and failure, he added, can be our ability to get supplies to Korea during the next year. If we are penny-wise on this, we will be pound-foolish regarding our position in the Far East." Hugh Borton, Chief of the Division of Japanese Affairs, predicted that since American aims of a year ago to unify Korea quickly and get out had fallen through, the US would have to stay for a long time and at considerable cost. He strongly implied that the reason for continued American occupation is that if American Forces did not stay, Russian Forces would overflow the entire country. Mr Borton said the American program calls for

NY Times 27 Dec. Letter from Yongjung Kim, president Korean affairs institute to editor: . . . 1 year ago at Moscow, the Foreign Ministers of the Big 3 the United States, the Soviet Union, and Great Britain announced that they had placed Korea under a 4 power trusteeship for a period of up to 5 years. Despite the protest of all Koreans, this decision was imposed upon them for the benevolent purpose of helping them to rebuild their country as an independent state. And yet during the last 12 months nothing has been done to implement this solemn pledge.

. . . . On this anniversary of the Moscow Declaration once again I would like to bring to the attention of the Big 3 Foreign Ministers the following suggestions for the fundamental solution of their problems in Korea:

1. In order to reestablish unified Economic and Political development the unnatural boundary at the 38th parallel should be removed immediately and unconditionally.

2. A Korean Oppression in Korea without any interference from the Soviet and American Commands.

3. Korea is not an enemy Nation and occupation is not necessary. Therefore, all Soviet and American Armed Forces should be withdrawn simultaneously and immediately from Korea.

4. The Provisional Govt should have sole right to select such Foreign Advisers and Technicians as Korea may need in rebuilding her national life and to dismiss those who do not properly serve Korea's national interest.

5-The involability of Korean sovereignty and independence should be guaranteed jointly by the United States, the Soviet Union, Great Britain and China, and they should further pledge not to seek any special privileges in Korea, Political or Economic.

These are the fundamentals of the solution of the Korean question. There is no other way out of that delicate spot, which holds the key to the solution of the whole Asiatic problem. Korea's neighbors need a strong, independent Korea and not a puppet. History has proved that as long as Korea was strong neither China nor Russia was menaced by Japan. . . .

Sale of Army generated scrap is subj. The Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion has certified to a critical shortage of ferrous and nonferrous scrap metal in the US and has requested that all future sales of such Army generated scrap be made exclusively to persons who will undertake to ship the scrap to the US, to the extent that this can be done without substantial sacrifice of revenue to the Government. On 24 Dec the Dept of State amended FLC Regulation 8 to permit the importation into the US of surplus property in the form of ferrous and nonferrous scrap metal.

However, under provisions of War Assets Administration Regulation 17, certain non-ferrous metals are required to be stock piled or can be sold only on allocation to satisfy a civilian deficiency. Details have not been completed to cover the sale of all non-ferrous metals, but are expected to be forthcoming within a short time. Additional info concerning sale of some of the strategic and critical materials listed in War Assets Administration Regulation 17 will be furnished you at a later date.

Effective upon receipt of this message, sales on a competitive bid basis and deliveries of ferrous scrap metal will be made only to those persons who will contract to return such scrap to the US for use in the US economy. The opinion is expressed here that it will not be economical for prospective buyers to attempt to return small quantities of scrap to the US. Scrap should be accumulated until minimum ship load quantities are available before offerings are made. No ferrous scrap will be returned to the US at Army expense.

In view of the restrictions placed on the War Department to sell this scrap without substantial sacrifice of revenue to the Government, it is requested that bids be analyzed carefully. The average of past prices paid to you for similar scrap, and estimates of cost incurred by the Army in the sale of such scrap, should be obtained and compared with bids made by buyers for return to the US. If bids by buyers for return to the US are not reasonably comparable with past prices obtained, current bids should be submitted to the War Department for decision before awards are made.

Dozens of party members are in jail. Pak Huen Yubg, Moscow educated leader, is in hiding. Sixteen ringleaders of the terror mob which killed scores of policemen in Taegu in Oct have been sentenced to death by an American Military Commission, while four hundred others were sentenced to prison terms.

With these stiff sentences, the American Administration in South Korea served notice that the kid glove policy toward terrorists who receive their orders from the Russian occupied zone above the 38th parallel was at an end.

In event of a major disaster in your theater such as an earthquake, volcanic eruption, conflagration, or tidal wave, it will be appreciated if you will promptly advise the WD by radio of its occurrence, with frequent subsequent reports of additional details as they become available, including information as to any casualties among our troops and also as to relief activities in which they may be engaged. Initial reports of such catastrophes always occasion alarm among relatives of soldiers stationed in affected areas and the WD should be in a position to make public promptly all available information which would tend to relieve this concern.

Chicago Tribune 20 Dec Walter Simmons: Evidence has mounted in the past few weeks that the Russians with occupation control now firmly established in Northern Korea intend to set up the area North of the 38th parallel Demarcation Line as a separate nation friendly to Moscow. Kim Il Sung, Mussolini like North Korea Communist Leader, is reported by refugees to have gone to Moscow to discuss the advantages of establishing an autonomous "Peoples Republic," which he would lead. Kim, who adopted the name of an aged Korean revolutionary here, is a vigorous man of about 35, selected by the Russians for his present post a year ago. In Northern Korea he already has executed at least 2 foreign agreements on international treaty level. The first involved the opening of a direct telegraph line to Moscow from Pyongyang, the Northern capital. The other was an agreement with Manchuria to exchange Northern Korea's plentiful hydro electric power for grains, fuel, and raw materials....

Despite objections from both Rightists and Leftists, the American Occupation Force has kept its promise to give Southern Korea virtual self govt by the year's end. The Interim Legislature now in session here represents the first step toward popular rule in the Southern Zone.

Christian Science Monitor 16 Dec: Washington lately has received numerous reports, both official and private, that suggests no lessening of tension and strife in Korea. Over the weekend Edwin W Pauley, President Truman's special reparations envoy, disclosed (in reviewing his inspection trip through the Soviet Zone in Korea) that there were indications Russia aimed to force a Moscow dominated government on all of Korea. Simultaneously, the War Dept, making one of its periodic statements on conditions in the southern (or American) Zone, reported increased labor strife and political violence, with independence and unification apparently as far off as ever. A day or two prior to these disclosures Syngman Rhee, Chief of the powerful Democratic Party in southern Korea, now in Washington to plead for immediate Korean independence in at least the American Zone, warned of a popular explosion if the Allies do not free and unify his country quickly. Almost as if anticipating this demand, Acting Sec of State Dean Acheson earlier that same day had declared emphatically that US Forces would stay on in southern Korea until Allied promise of a unified, free, and independent Korea had been achieved. It is apparent here, from all these reports, that peace and prosperity, unification and freedom for Korea are no nearer today than they were the day Japan surrendered. If it is true, as Mr Pauley suggests, that Soviet activities in northern Korea are aimed at eventual domination of all the country, it is equally right to infer from Mr Acheson's remarks that Washington will never accept such an eventuality.

Part 1: Christmas greetings from the President.

"To the men and women of our armed forces:

I am very grateful for this opportunity to extend to each one of you, where ever you may be, my most sincere Christmas greetings.

We are now involved in a great struggle; a struggle to shape the events of today and tomorrow toward a just and enduring peace for all peoples in all countries. There is still much to be done.

The accomplishment of our task will require the same devotion and the same high ideals which you, the men and women of our armed forces, have always displayed.

The liberty-loving peoples throughout the world, who in darker days prayed for our success in battle, now offer their prayers that our struggle for harmony and tranquility on earth shall succeed.

I wish to express the nation's deep appreciation of the part that you are playing, and hope that our gratitude will in some small way compensate for your absence from home, friends, and dear ones on this Christmas Day.

Part 2: Greetings from the Secretary of War.

"At this Christmas season, I wish to extend my heartiest greetings and best wishes to the men and women in our Army, military and civilian, and to express my warm appreciation for your local and efficient services throughout the year.

It has been a hard year, and you have acquitted yourself with honor. You have exhibited the soldierly qualities of courage, intelligent and perseverance which stood you so well in battle and won you the affection and admiration of the American people. Your work at home and abroad continues in the finest traditions of the service.

Part 3: Christmas message from the Chief of Staff.

"You, of the United States Army, are now engaged in a mission whose essence is the establishment and maintenance of conditions in which may prosper world-wide extension of the Christmas spirit. Wherever you are stationed and whatever your task may be, all of you are guardians of peace. You strive so that, at this and every Christmas to come, we may be able to celebrate the good tidings of this season, serenely secure from the sacrifice and terror of war. Though accomplishment means that you must perfect yourselves in the technical, disciplinary and mental processes of war, your basic purpose must always be its prevention rather than its waging.

To all who serve or have served in our Country's Army, I extend my warmest greetings and sincere good wishes. My thoughts are especially with those whose duty requires them to spend this Christmas away from home and loved ones. The present sacrifice you make is a real contribution to Christmas peace."

NY Times 15 Dec: Mr Pauleys Diary of a six day inspection trip through the Northern Soviet Zone went to President Truman with a report in which Mr Pauley said that it might be Russia's aim to force a Moscow Dominated Government on all Korea before she agreed to withdraw her troops. In contrast to Manchuria, where he said the Russians had carted away enough machinery to wreck the industrial plant; Mr Pauley found industry in operation in the Soviet Zone of Korea.

NY Herald Tribune 15 Dec: A wave of strikes, and attempt to assassinate the head of a major political party and very little industrial recovery were high lights of a report by General Douglas MacArthur today on Korea during September. Despite the difficult period, Koreans were told that they should assume more governmental responsibilities and that American Occupation authorities would act henceforth only as advisers. Others included temporary suspension of 3 newspapers and an address by Lt Gen John R Hodge, American Commander, warning Koreans of political motives behind a Sept railway strike. Hodge said the strike was "Fomented by agitators to discommode and discredit the American Forces in Korea."

MacArthur said there was "More progress in developing an efficient Korean police system," but that crime had increased and profiteering had retarded rice collecting programs. On the brighter side, the report noted that a plan for barter with Japan had been completed, a child labor law had gone into effect and American imports had provided for medicinal needs.

Washington Times Herald 14 Dec. Ted Lewis and Jerry Greene headlined Reds seek Korea as satellite, Pauley's secret report says:

In a harshly worded secret White House report, sent to a small group of key Congressmen, Reparations Commissioner Edwin W. Pauley has accused Russia of apparently seeking to make satellite state out of Korea and declared the Soviets will oppose unification of the country until this is accomplished. Additionally, Pauley bluntly charged Russia with creating a condition of chaos in Manchuria by unwarranted stripping the country of vital industries....

Washington Evening Star 13 Dec. Constantine Brown... a Russian-American agreement in regard to the Far East is bound to come, after affairs in Europe are well disposed of, although that may not be for a year or two yet. For there are too many unsettled points of contact. Some kind of accord must be reached in regard to Korea and Japan. But it would be meaningless-in the political sense-without agreement on China. And there probably will have to be a general Pacific political agreement, putting in treaty form the rights and responsibilities of both the United States and Russia in that great ocean area.

This is semi monthly forecast of movement of dependents to European Theater and Japan. All Armies and MDW are requested to disseminate this information to all posts, camps and stations handling dependents, and to dependents affected. This forecast is prepared to enable dependents to plan personal affairs on the basis of projected shipping month which is later than the shipment month indicated by the priority list on which their names appears.

Part 1. NYPE has completed issuance of port calls for all dependents on Dec list who are adults travelling alone, or who are travelling with children age 7 and above. All Armies and MDW are urged to expedite issuance of passport letters and travel authorizations for ETO Jan list in order that there be no delay in starting movement of personnel on that list.

Part 2. Backlog consists of Nov priorities where dependents have children under 7 years of age. In addition to action cited in part 2, our TCMOV DC 839 (WCL 33601) dated 30 Nov 1946, whereby vessel capacities for children under 7 are being increased, CG NYPE has been authorized to move dependents with priority to those with children under 7 by commercial air at Government expense. calls are being issued for air travel from New York to Frankfurt. All dependents in backlog from Nov list have now received either a port call for air travel or a port call for water transportation during month of Dec.

Part 3. Acceptance rate on port calls for air travel has not yet been developed. However, it is expected to be sufficient to provide over 500 air passengers in Dec and 1,000 in Jan. Dependent on acceptance, and ability of dependents to report promptly at New York, an earlier liquidation of the backlog is anticipated. At this time cannot accurately estimate liquidation date.

Part 4. Movement forecast for Dec and Jan lists is as follows: Dec singles or with children over 7 during Dec, Dec dependents with children 2 years to 6 years during Jan, Dec dependents with children 6 months to 2 years during Jan, Jan singles or with children over 7 during Dec and Jan, Jan dependents with children 2 years to 6 years late Jan and Feb, Jan dependents with children 6 months to 2 years late Jan and Feb. Forecast above is subject to change based on acceptance rate for air travel.

Part 5. For movement to Japan, port calls have been issued for Dec shipment of balance of dependents on Nov list, and for first 25 per cent of Dec list. Expect balance of Dec list to move in Jan, plus at least first 50 per cent of Jan list. Prompt issue of passport letters and travel authorizations for Japan Jan list will do much to expedite movement of personnel on Jan list.

NY Herald Tribune 13 Dec: South Korea's first Occupation Legislature opened today, but about 20 members of the Rightist Han Kook (Korea) Democratic Party stayed away in protest against invalidation of elections in Seoul and Kangwon Province and virtual exclusion from appointments. Lieut Gen John R Hodge, United States Occupation Commander, ordered new elections in Seoul and Kangwon because he said preparations were inadequate. The South Korea Coalition Committee recommended only one Han Kook member to Hodge for inclusion among 45 appointees to the 90 member assembly. The other 45 are elective. Political observers said the Han Kooks, having saved face, could be expected to join the assembly soon.

Christian Science Monitor 11 Dec: Moscow radio has stepped up its radiocasts to Korea in recent weeks in an apparent attempt to convince the Koreans that all would be well if Korea were unified under Soviet guidance. The Daily Korean language radiocasts, relayed by a Komsomolsk transmitter from Moscow, are believed to be widely heard in Korea. They paint the American policies in Southern Korea in the blackest possible way and claim that in the Soviet Occupation Zone north of the 38 parallel all the ideals of Democratic Government are being realized.

Washington Star 11 Dec: The US should permit immediately the setting up of a genuinely free government in its occupation zone of Southern Korea, which should then deal directly with Russia for establishment of a unified and independent Korean Nation, according to Dr Syngman Rhee, president of the Representative Democratic Council of South Korea. Dr Rhee insisted the Koreans, if left to themselves, could solve their problems and achieve unity without bloodshed. He declared the American Military Government, by remaining neutral itself while preventing the Southern Koreans from taking action on their own, was blocking such a solution. Declaring it was not the fault of occupation authorities, he implied that the US Government should have ordered a firmer line with regard to Korean Communists.

Philadelphia Inquirer 11 Dec: Accusing the State Department of an "Appeasement Policy" in Korea, Dr Syngman Rhee, veteran advocate of Korean Independence, today demanded that an Independent Government be established at once in the American Zone. The 74 old Rhee, who recently came from Korea, indicated he did not approve General Hodges efforts to have all parties, including the Communists, represented in the government.

Chicago Tribune 11 Dec: Gen John R. Hodge, United States Occupation Commander, today named 41 men and 4 women to serve with 45 elected representatives in South Korea's first Occupation Legislature, scheduled to open Thursday.

NY Herald Tribune 11 Dec Frank Kelley: Dean Acheson, acting Secretary of State, told a news conference that the United States intends to keep its forces in Southern Korea until unification of a free and independent Korea can be achieved. His statement followed presentation to the United Nations General Assembly at New York yesterday of an OTE letter by Miss Louise Kim, delegate of the representative Democratic Council of South Korea, warning of Civil War unless all foreign troops are pulled out and independence granted. State Department officials thereupon reiterated Mr Acheson's statement of policy, and said Mr Rhee has no official status, although much prestige as an elder statesman in his country.

Bill Costello 9 Dec (CBS news of the world from Tokyo).

The Pauley report is having some weird repercussions in Japan. Politicians are highly agitated at the sweeping seizure of industrial properties proposed in the report. Cabinet Ministers held a special session yesterday and Members of the House will hear a report on the whole problem tomorrow. Meanwhile, the Minister of Commerce and Industry made a speech saying that if the Pauley recommendations are adopted, Japanese industry will be set back to the level of the 1809 EJJINXH I learned his speech was originally drafted as a Cabinet statement, but at the last moment the Cabinet lost its nerve and let the Minister voice the protest as his own opinion. More surprising still, one Communist leader in the Diet yesterday assured the adoption of the Pauley report would wipe out 60 yrs of Japanese industrial progress. Meanwhile, the big industrialists are "Unruffled". These men who actually run industry will be entirely satisfied to have their worn out old machinery taken away to China and the Philippines if they can start all over with efficient modern equipment. The politicians are already planning an appeal, and it has a good chance of winning, because American experts here say Pauley's report was based on such unreliable figures and on such inaccurate forecasts that it also is already obsolete.

NY Herald Tribune 10 Dec: One of the by products of the disputes between Russia and the US is the division of Korea into two zones, one dominated by the Russian Army and the other by the American Army. Normal trade between the two regions is impossible, with the result that Koreans in the South suffer for lack of goods plentiful in the North, and vice versa. In the Russian Area in the North Left Wing Koreans are being trained to run a Communist State, or something approaching such a State, while in the South Americans are trying to encourage the development of an entirely different system of Government. The results are tragic, as pointed out in a recent interview given to this newspaper by Miss Luisa Yim, President of the Central Womens College of Seoul. Miss Yim puts the blame for the division of her country on Communism and its adherents. She would be supported by most Americans who have followed developments in Korea, especially in view of the Russian refusal-which continued for a long period of time-to negotiate with any Korean leaders who did not represent the extreme left. It must be granted, however, that the US also has at least some responsibility for the sad state of affairs in Korea. One American error was to send troops into Korea without a complement of experts familiar with the country, its language, its culture and its economy and political problems. A second was to depend so completely on American Army Officers in governing the Koreans and in negotiating with the Russians. These officers did not have the political experience and wisdom needed to deal with the strong desire for HFJILFLUNTRFTRM which existed throughout Korea-especially at a time when Red agitators were prepared to take advantage of the unrest. The net result was that American prestige suffered so greatly that the best friends of the US in Korea today are said to be the Korean police, who are used by our commanders to maintain ORDEHZLJSNBP Korea-and the same might be said for Japan-it seems unwise for the US to rely so completely on Army officers to perform political functions. A few American generals have a great political skill, but far more are babes in the woods when they encounter political situations.

Following quoted from Pearson column 9 Dec: "The WD and Gen MacArthur are supposed to be a part of the same Army team, but apparently one of them doesn't always believe in letting 'The right hand see what the left hand doeth'." When this column recently published the text of a secret telegram from MacArthur in which he proposed barring the special correspondents of the Christian Science Monitor, New York Herald Tribune, San Francisco Chronicle and others from Japan, an explosive statement was immediately issued by MacArthur. It was reported by The United Press from Tokyo as follows: "A spokesman for Gen MacArthur denied reports of columnist Drew Pearson that The Supreme Commander had banned several newspapers from Japan, including the Chicago Sun, New York Herald Tribune, PM and The San Francisco Chronicle. There is not the slightest truth in those assertions, a GHQ Public Relations Officer said.

"But within an hour of the MacArthur statement, the War Department confirmed the accuracy of the MacArthur cable as reported by this column." Here is the United Press report from the War Dept: "The War Department declined comment on a report by Drew Pearson that Gen MacArthur banned representatives of several important newspapers from making a trip to Japan. The Army said the only comment that could be made would have to come from MacArthur. Reliable War Dept sources said Pearson quoted correctly from the text of a cable from MacArthur to the War Dept. They said the officer or civilian who disclosed the information to Pearson would probably be Court Martialed for violating security if his identity were discovered. Other War Dept sources said the text of Pearsons column had been radioed to MacArthur."

"Note--MacArthur, in his cable to the War Dept, had lumped the staunch Republican New York Herald Tribune and the San Francisco Chronicle along with the Communist Daily Worker, The liberal PM and pro-Democratic Chicago Sun and accused them all of 'Downright quackery and dishonesty' he said he did not want representatives of these papers making a special tour of Japan."

Chicago Tribune 7 Dec Walter Simmons:

"A charge by the newspaper columnist Drew Pearson that Gen MacArthur had banned the representatives of six American newspapers from a tour of Japan and Korea caused considerable mystification here today after being flatly denied by an official spokesman.

Pearson alleged that MacArthur had personally radioed the War Department banning representatives of the New York Herald Tribune, The Christian Science Monitor, The Chicago Sun, The San Francisco Chronicle, PM, and the Daily Worker. However, the Herald Tribune already has two correspondents here and neither has been asked to leave. The Monitor has one reporter, and the Chicago Sun has a correspondent, Mark Gayn, who is being recalled by his office as an economy measure. He also represented PM.

The Chronicle has had no representative here except thru various news services. The same is true of the Daily Worker, altho it is known that correspondents of Leftist sympathies have fed it from time to time items calculated to put the American Occupation of Japan in a bad light.

There was some speculation that Pearson's reference might have been to some junket of editors still in the planning stage. Because of the critical housing shortage in Japan and Korea such junkets have not been officially encouraged for some time.

Nothing so depresses working newspaper men on the spot as a descent of junketing editorial executives who monopolize official attention during their stay, receive courtesies unknown to locally based writers, and leave

NY Times 6 Dec Lindsey Parrot, Tokyo: ... Dr Rhee, who returned to Korea shortly after the Japanese surrender, asserted that there was little use in renewing the attempts made by Lt Gen John R Hodge, Commanding the American Occupation Force, to form a single government for the areas both north and south of the 38 parallel. "In the Soviet Occupied Zone," he said, "there is already an actual Korean Government, which, we continue to be told, is permitted to administer internal affairs. The same should be established in the south. So long as the Russian and American occupations continue there is no chance of agreement." ... Dr Rhee explained, that he would expect the interim South Korean Government to ask for membership in the United Nations, then request through that organization, a termination of foreign occupation and finally appeal to the Northern Koreans to join in forming a permanent administration after the Allied troops left.

The following telegram from Paul C Smith, publisher, San Francisco Chronicle is quoted for your information and such action as may be appropriate:

"Please advise the Secretary that I am particularly interested in Drew Pearson's column for tomorrow relative to General MacArthur's alleged attitude toward the San Francisco Chronicle and certain other newspapers. I am having made and will forward to you by letter compilation of the Chronicle's editorial comments upon the occupation of Japan from its inception. Off handedly I know that we have been most friendly to General MacArthur and most considerate of his problems. Furthermore since my return to my post as editor a year ago I have brought some direct knowledge of conditions in Japan to the leadership and policy direction of this newspaper because of my first hand acquaintance with post surrender Japan. As you may know I served on Admiral Spruance's Staff in the early months of the occupation. If the Pearson Publication is accurate I feel strongly that I am due an apology from General MacArthur who may be Supreme Commander of Japan but nonetheless is just another American citizen charged with a heavy national responsibility. If he is capable of such misinterpretation as to evaluate my editorial conduct as constituting "Quackery and downright dishonesty" when rightly or wrongly our conduct has been consistently friendly to him and those others attempting to solve the American problems in Japan then I am concerned about what else he might be misinterpreting. As you know I have a deep and personal interest and a considerable personal investment in the proper solution of the problems of the Pacific. I have no intention of standing supinely by in acceptance of gratuitous insults at the hands of General MacArthur. Rightly or wrongly his asserted message has been given National Publicity by Pearson. If the message is incorrectly quoted it is my strong feeling that the War Dept should say so. If it is correctly quoted then I believe that the constructive record of the Chronicle under my direction during the past year is sufficient grounds upon which to request a public apology even from such a distinguished American as General MacArthur. Best regards Paul C Smith."

Interim reply has been sent Smith who has been advised that further reply will be made in few days. Would appreciate any suggestions as to replies to be made to this and other messages expected from Newspapers concerned.

Philadelphia Record 3 Dec. Drew Pearson Washington: A top secret cablegram has just been received by the War Department from General MacArthur, banning several important newspapers from taking a trip to Japan. They include the New York Herald Tribune, Christian Science Monitor, Chicago Sun, San Francisco
Chronicle, PM, and the Daily Worker.

In his telegram to the War Department, General MacArthur accused these papers of "downright quackery and dishonesty."

MacArthur's cable was sent after the War Department wired him, suggesting that a group of newspaper editors and correspondents make a brief tour of Japan and Korea, as they recently did through Germany. The War Department, which is always loath to make suggestions to MacArthur, phrased the telegram in tactful language, proposing that it might be a good idea to let the press get a real picture of the occupation.

The Supreme Commander in the Pacific was not hesitant about replying. First he objected; then, when the War Department sent him a second cable, he reluctantly accepted-but turned thumbs down on the above mentioned papers.

While many Army men would agree with MacArthurs opposition to the Daily Worker, which is an official Communist Publication, the War Department was surprised at MacArthurs banning of the Christian Science Monitor, which is non partisan, and the New York Herald Tribune, which is Republican. The San Francisco Chronicle, also Republican, is edited by Paul C Smith, who had a brilliant war record in the Marine Corps and Navy, and who, during a recent trip through Germany, was vigorous in his praise of the US Army's work.

MacArthurs top secret telegram follows in full:
"CINCPAC, Tokyo-While continuing my doubts as to the advisability of the contemplated trip, in view of the insistence of the War Department, I will withdraw my objection. I would like to have an opportunity to pass upon those contemplated for selection before their invitation is accomplished. I believe the list should not include actual writers but should be limited to publishers and editors and should not include those connected with papers of known hostility to the occupation. Such papers are the Christian Science Monitor, Herald Tribune, Chicago Sun, San Francisco Chronicle, PM, Daily Worker and others of this stamp whose articles and editorials have not only been slanted but have approached downright quackery and dishonesty. Signed, MacArthur"
note-Secretary of State Byrnes, talking to a closed door session of Kilgore Committee, recently said of General MacArthur: "While that fellow has been doing a fine job, nevertheless he is a prima donna-because I have known him for 30 years-and when you send out there for costs (occupation costs), he is liable to fly the coop and raise a lot of sin."

A committee of Congress recently visited Korea, supposedly on an investigation trip. But what they didn't find out would fill a book--a book, incidentally, which may be one reason why General MacArthur is loath to have certain newspapermen visit in the Pacific.

Army censorship has hushed it up, but serious rioting has occurred in Korea, with about 50 civilian policemen killed in the city of Taegu. Their bodies were horribly mutilated by an aroused mob of natives. Police cruelty was given as the reason for the uprising. American MPs patrol the streets of Taegu and other cities, but are under orders not to get mixed in civilian brawls.

Meantime, factories are at a standstill because of lack of supplies and transportation, while part of the civilian population is on the verge of starvation. Insiders blame conditions on various factors, including the Russians and the blundering of Lieut Gen John R Hodge, US Commanding Officer.

The fact that our military and American Military Govt Detachments get three square meals a day and are billeted more or less comfortably, while Koreans must do without, also hasn't helped matters. Neither has the fact that Hodge is constantly feuding with the AMG Chief, Maj Gen Archer L Lerch, who is griped over alleged discriminating against the AMG by Hodge in the allocation of food supplies and vehicles.

Lerch contends that he cannot do a satisfactory administrative job with what Hodge gives him, but is afraid to make an official complaint because Hodge is his superior officer. Korean conditions probably will not improve until either Hodge or Lerch is removed--- and insiders who know all the facts say it should be Hodge.

Another sore point is Hodges brass hat manner of handling enlisted men. The caste system is perhaps worse in Korea than any other occupation area, and one thing which especially riles enlisted men is the disposition of liquor.

An officer can store as many bottles as he wants in his billet, and only the liquor left over after officers buy all they want is turned over to Enlisted Mens Clubs. As a result, the clubs frequently don't get any.

Gen Hodge, however, was hesitant about serving liquor to the Congressional Committee which inspected Korea. At first, he decided to serve only Suntory, a Jap brand of scotch, at a party in his private dining room at the Chosen Hotel in Seoul. At the last minute, however, he changed his mind, and requisitioned $\frac{1}{2}$ a case of champagne, 3 bottles of port wine, and 3 bottles of sherry for the party.
