Charles B Levinson, vice president of the Steelcraft Manufacturing Co requests permission for himself or Mr Werner Lesser to enter Japan. They are both qualified engrs in the construction of prefabricated buildings manufactured by above firm. One of the aforementioned individuals wishes to enter sometime after 10 May 48 and return to the US by 30 Jun 48. The purpose of their proposed tvl is to help erect their buildings which have been purchased by missionaries in Japan. Steelcraft has manufactured and shipped to Japan a nbr of prefabricated housing units to be used by missionaries in the employment of Church World Svc, Inc. Some of the missionaries are inexperienced in this type of prefabricated construction, and Church World Svc has requested either Mr Lesser or Mr Levinson be allowed to enter Japan to help their missionaries properly construct said housing units that are so badly needed by the missionaries. Your views requested.

Wash Post 29 Apr: The Army announced yesterday it has halted the movement of wives and children of military personnel to Korea. The Army said the decision was made in the light of the forthcoming election to form a new government in Korea with the prospect that American troops will be withdrawn from the country.

NY Times Correspondent Richard J H Johnston, Seoul 28 Apr: The Joint South and North Korea political conference being held in Pyongyang, capital of the Soviet Zone, has announced the adoption of a resolution declaring: "Under no conditions under no circumstances and at no time will the people ever approve separate elections in South Korea. We will do our utmost to prevent holding of separate elections in South Korea." This action was reported by the Soviet controlled North Korea radio.... Among the organizations reported to have subscribed to the demand were the Independence Party of which Kim Koo, Rightist leader opposed to the election, is chairman. The revolutionary party of Dr Kim Kiusic, South Korean Moderate who also opposes the United Nations sponsored elections, is also listed as a signer. Both men are attending this conference as self appointed representatives of South Korea on Soviet invitation. ...

The Communists have declared that the elections will not be permitted to take place if the Reds have to murder every one of the more than 900 candidates for the Constituent Assembly to prevent it.

INS Yokohama 29 Apr unpublished: An irate Lt Gen Robert L Eichelberger, Commander of the US Eighth Army in Japan, disclosed today that American MPs were pushed around by riotous Koreans in Kobe. ... Eichelberger said the pushing incident involving the MPs occurred when a number of Koreans acted to prevent the American from removing the Japanese governor of Kobe from his office. The governor was being held incommunicado by a delegation presenting the demands of the rioting Koreans.

UP Seoul 28 Apr: The United Nations Commission on Korea today approved, 5 to 3, American plans for elections May 10 in South Korea. The Commission decided "there exists a reasonable degree of free atmosphere wherein democratic rights of freedom of speech, press and assembly are recognized and respected."

The Commission originally was charged by the UN General Assembly with arranging and observing elections throughout Korea, but the Russians boycotted the Commission and refused to permit its entrance into North Korea. ...

NY Times Nanking 27 Apr: The National Assembly's governing body voted today to resume the disrupted vice presidential election tomorrow after a 2 day recess, made necessary by the withdrawal of all 3 candidates.

AP Nanking 27 Apr: . . . Reports from Manchuria, all unconfirmed, said General Linpiao, Communist Commander in Manchuria, had moved his advance hq to Sinlitun, 65 miles west of Mukden. They quoted him as boasting he would take Mukden. In North Central China the government reported the situation "obscure" around Paoki, which controls highways leading out of food producing Szechvan Province to the North China front. . . .

NY Times Nanking 27 Apr: The Communist North Shensi radio said tonight that Red troops had captured Paoki, about 100 miles west of Sian. The attack on Paoki advanced the Red encirclement of Sian. . . . Government units on the way to Weihsien advanced from Tsinan to Changhsien, 20 miles east of Weihsien. Other government units from Tsingtao, pressing toward Weihsien on a broad front, took several towns. The government reported that Nationalists had pushed down from Chengchow on the Peiping Hankow Railway to capture Suchang, 60 miles south. . . .

AP Kobe 27 Apr: A Korean spokesman, Sai Yakon, declared today that resistance against Japanese closure of separate Korean schools would continue.... Meanwhile, 25th Div officers announced that 1 Korean was killed in yesterday's rioting in nearby Osaka. They reported a .25 cal bullet was taken from the Korean's head. American MP's, who shot over the heads of the rioters to disperse them, used .38 cal weapons. Japanese police, aided by American MP's, arrested 15 Korean school teachers here.... Kobe and Osaka were reported quiet after Lt Gen Robert L Eichelberger banned all public demonstrations. Eichelberger announced that he would return to his Eighth Army Hq in Yokohama since the "situation is well in hand." The General contradicted Japanese reports that 8 Koreans were wounded at Osaka. The Japanese governor of Osaka Prefecture had telephoned the report to Yokohama, saying it grew out of a demonstration by 10,000 Koreans in front of his office. "I was right in the middle of it myself and the only thing was that Japanese police turned a firehose on a few who lingered," said Eichelberger.

Radio Commentator Bill Costello CBS News of the World from Seoul 26 Apr: People in Korea are shaking their heads.... and there's more confusion today than at any previous time.

Only about 100 out of 13,000 polling places had been attacked, but many officials have been successfully terrorized. Officials who are afraid to be seen carrying ballots have asked American Army authorities to take charge of transporting them to the polls....

NY Times Correspondent Burton Crane, Tokyo 27 Apr: Encouraged by backing from Lt Gen Robert L Eichelberger, the Jap government moved today against the Korean rebels in Tokyo, arresting 16 officials of 34 schools that had defied the Apr 20 court order to register under the Japanese education law. Similar arrests caused Osaka and Kobe demonstrations but Tokyo is quiet. With American 25th Div troops patrolling Kobe and Osaka with an augmented police force both cities were calm today.... Gen Eichelberger has promised stern justice for the leaders of the disorders before provost courts....

NY Times Correspondent Richard J H Johnston, Seoul 27 Apr: The Communist-led drive to force the UN Commission on Korea to abandon its task of observing elections here on May 10 and of setting up a Korean National Govt under the terms of the General Assembly resolution has cost the lives of at least 350 persons. This was stated in a report released here today by US Army hq.... These Communist assaults are described by the North Korean Soviet-controlled radio as "The people's resistance against the illegal separate elections banned by the UN and the American imperialists."... Despite the Communist opposition... 61.6% of the eligible voters registered between Mar 30 and Apr 8.... There is no longer a question in any Korean's mind as to who is directing these disorders....

Wash News editorial 28 Apr:... But the significant aspect of this affair is that the mob not only demonstrated. It occupied the seat of the state govt and imprisoned the governor and police chief, which is Red stuff. To handle the situation the US Army had to declare a state of "limited emergency" and cooperate with the Jap police in arresting more than 1100.... Stalin is not likely to get away with much in Japan as long as Gen MacArthur is in complete command. But in divided Korea the AP Seoul 27 Apr 47: Communist violence in opposition to the UN sponsored South Korean elections has cost 351 lives in 3 1/2 months....

NY Times Correspondent Richard J H Johnston, Seoul 26 Apr:.... According to the Pyongyang radio, the representatives of the hand picked North and South Korean Communist controlled groups have unanimously agreed that both the US Army and the UN Temporary Commission must be driven from Korea immediately so that the Soviet guided Communist forces may establish a "true democracy" here....

UP Kobe 26 Apr:.... The US Army definitely ascribed the riots, during which more than 1,120 persons were arrested, to Communist agitation. Lt Gen Robert L Eichelberger, Eighth Army commander who flew here from Tokyo to handle the situation, said that 30 jailed Koreans and the 8 Japanese were registered members of the Communist Party....

AP Shanghai 27 Apr: Most of the Chinese Govt garrison at Tei-tien today was reported wiped out by Communists renewing their assault on the strategic Shantung Peninsula rail city.
Dispatches to the newspaper Sin Wan Pao said the reds pretended Thursday to abandon the siege of the city, then bolstered their forces and surprised the defenders with a fierce onslaught.
4 Nationalist regiments and 2 Bns were lost, the dispatches said, adding that the Communists had smashed into the city.

NY Times Correspondent Henry R Lieberman, Nanking 26 Apr:
Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek announced tonight that all 3 Kuomintang candidates had been persuaded "not to insist" on withdrawing from China's disrupted vice presidential election.

AP Shanghai 26 Apr: Observers believe that if Gen Li Tsung

AP Tokyo 26 Apr: News of the Korean uprising in Kobe was not carried by major Japanese language newspapers. A censorship official of allied hq explained the stories were being held "temporarily" at the request of the US Eighth Army, troops of which quelled the riots yesterday....

AP Yokohama 25 Apr: Brig Gen C A Willoughby, Intelligence Officer for Occupation Hq, said he regarded the Koreans as definitely dangerous. Lt Gen Robert L Eichelberger, US Eighth Army Commandant, arranged to fly to Kobe Monday for an inspection. Willoughby and Col George A Jones, US Eighth Army Intelligence Chief, agreed that Communists fronted the rioting. Jones characterized the trouble as the first "minor emergency" of the occupation. He cautioned, however, "lets not get the people back in the US all excited. We will handle it."...

"The Koreans decided they could not win in Osaka", said Col Jones "so they shifted their attack to Kobe.... The Koreans forced the governor under threats to release 70 Koreans who had been arrested earlier for resisting the School Law. We have ordered the rearrest of those 70 and all persons who intimidated the governor, mayor and police chief. When they intimidate public officials, the Koreans are running up against a basic precept of the occupation--respect for law and order. I am convinced that Communists are behind these disorders, just as they are in Southern Korea. The school dispute is a pretext. The Japanese police are not physically able to arrest them, so we are doing it. We are using our Kobe troops-- negro troops."

Gen Eichelberger said use of the negro troops was not resented, as no color line exists in Japan. He added that the negroes who are regularly stationed at Kobe "are a darned good outfit--full of good soldiers; I'm proud of them."

AP Kobe 26 Apr: US Military Police today jailed 800 persons as an aftermath to weekend rioting by nearly 8,000 Koreans. American negro soldiers have stepped in swiftly to quell outbreaks here and in Osaka over a touchy education issue. It was the first time troops have been called out in the 2½ year old occupation. US Eighth Army Hq in Tokyo said 7 known Japanese Communists were among the 800 arrested. American intelligence officers said the disturbances were Communist inspired. A jailed Korean leader told the AP Japanese Communists took part in the riots.... Hq termed resistance negligible "due to complete cooperation between Japanese officials and police and American Military Police."... Stern punishment for the leaders was ordered by Lt Gen Robert L Eichelberger, Commander of the Eighth Army...

Gen Eichelberger, described the rioting as "uncivilized," asserted that the Koreans have attempted to take the law into their own hands. He added: "There will be no compromise with subversive mob action."... Gen Eichelberger said the demonstration "degenerated into mob action to such an extent that civil govt ceased to function" and that such action "is inimical to occupation policies and to the security of the occupation.".... Gen Eichelberger said ringleaders of the riots will be tried in provost courts and by military commissions, instead of Japanese courts.

"NY Times editorial 26 Apr: The firm hand of Gen MacArthur was promptly raised to crush the first serious rioting in Japan our forces have encountered since the occupation.... Both before and since the war Korean immigrants have swarmed over the coast of Honshu by the tens of thousands. As a liberated people most of them seem to feel that they are not subject to the law of the land in which they have chosen to settle.... Local police in Kobe were outnumbered and overcome.

Into this situation, described as "really dangerous," American troops moved swiftly.... The obvious lesson to be drawn from these disorders is that trouble invariably follows Communist infiltration.... But as long as General MacArthur and our occupation forces remain alert to act we need not become alarmed. It is hardly likely that agents of Moscow can check the tide of recovery now flowing freely in Japan under full American control....

NY Herald Tribune editorial 25 Apr: American officials have put no obstacles in the way of political leaders in South Korea who want to attend a conference on the fate of the country held in the Russian Zone, even though the Soviet Union has opposed every effort to create a united Korea, except one that would be a Russian satellite. The opinion of American authorities is that it would be a good thing for men from South Korea to see how little the Reds have to offer. They hold to the theory that Americans who believe in democracy, despite all the mistakes they have made, have won more friends in South Korea than the Russians have in the North. The decision to clear the way for Koreans under American control to visit the Soviet Zone undoubtedly was wise.... A few leaders in Korea recognize what is at stake in the conflict between the US and Russia, but most of the Korean people do not...

Most of the people of hungry Asia are likely to look with favor on almost any change in govt that will promise to give them more to eat-- without too careful examination of the validity of the promise. They are not so much interested in less immediate and less material benefits. They are too intent on survival through the current month to fret much about the ultimate advantages of democracy, with its freedoms, as opposed to Communism, with its repressions. Americans in Asia, including Americans in responsible positions, sometimes fail to realize what a powerful argument hunger can be....

Wash Star editorial 26 Apr: If hostile words and gestures are to be taken at anything like their face value, a grave crisis will confront the American occupied zone of Southern Korea on or before May 10.... The commission came by this decision after a survey of the Korean situation, thereby affirming the recommendation previously made by our own occupational authorities. This decision, however, encountered the bitter opposition of Soviet Russia, which had consistently blocked all efforts to implement the Russo-American agreement made at the close of the late war to establish an all Korean native govt and the restoration of a genuinely independent Korea....

The Soviet aim is clearly to force US out of South Korea and then unite the country in Moscow's own pattern, as a dependency of the Soviet Union.... It could therefore be predicted that Moscow would take strong measures to combat the South Korean elections. Its tactics took the form of a Soviet sponsored "All Korea Joint Political Conference."... The conference declares itself prepared to "adopt measures to smash the sinister plottings of American imperialists to ruin our country and our people."

It likewise endorsed the "Soviet Government's righteous proposal demanding that foreign troops leave Korea at the earliest possible date." All this indicates a direct challenge to both the American occupational authorities and the UN... Since there is no likelihood that the UN Commission will adjourn the elections under such intimidation tactics, a major test seems inevitable on or before election day....

NY Times, Peiping 23 Apr: Peiping University teachers in a statement today asked the head of the local Kuomintang Govt Party whether the assassination of Peiping professors was being planned. . . . The professors warned the authorities that assassinations could not lessen the dissatisfaction of students and teachers with conditions, but would increase their anger and sharpen their instinct of self preservation. . . .

Chicago Tribune Correspondent Donald Starr, Kalgan, China 25 Apr: . . . Agile Communist guerrillas constantly keep more powerful govt forces off balance. . . . Quick thrusts by the Reds and subsequent rapid withdrawals make tvl as perilous as any experienced in the South Pacific during the war with the Japs. While the effect of such forays is damaging to supply bases and communication lines, the impression remains that China's civil war can go on another 20 years without a conclusive victory for either side. . . .

NY Herald Tribune Correspondent Christopher Rand, Shanghai 25 Apr: Today's crisis over China's Vice Presidency arises from a basic struggle between the central bureaucracy or "court" at Nanking, which wants to preserve the status quo, and a strong coalition of provincial generals and politicians who are dissatisfied with Nanking. . . . The provincial coalitions leader and candidate is General Li Tsung Jen, who precipitated the crisis by withdrawing from the race with highly plausible complaints of interference in the balloting by Nanking officials. For some time such men have become more and more critical of the Nanking bureaucracy, which they regard as distant, unrealistic and meddlesome, especially in the North where they have faced the civil war in reality.

NY Times Correspondent Henry R. Lieberman, Nanking 25 Apr: Undercurrents of rivalry between President Chiang Kai Shek and Gen. Li Tsung Jen, a rising Kuomintang reform leader, rose to the surface today, for the latter's sudden withdrawal from the Vice Presidential race. After leading on the first 2 ballots in the National Assembly voting, the 57 year old Kwangsi gen announced his withdrawal at 3 AM in a statement asserting that "some people" were coercing the delegates and were interfering with a free election. More explicitly his backers charged that President Chiang had exerted last minute pressure in an attempt to swing the multiple ballot voting in favor of Dr. Sun Fo, the Vice Presidential incumbent. . . . These leaflets denied what it referred to as "rumors" that Gen. Li was planning to oust President Chiang from office within 3 months by forcing him to go abroad.

NY Times Correspondent Tillma Durdin, Nanking 25 Apr: Stern warnings against the use of brutality or excessive severity in carrying out Communist policies have been issued from Communist HQ in North China in a broadcast over the North Shensi rad. . . . It provides further evidence that the Communist leadership has become seriously concerned over the hostility and opposition that have developed among the people in Red areas to Communist ruthlessness.

UP Nanking 21 Apr: The National Assembly called upon the govt today to request UN actions against Russia unless all industry stripped from Manchuria is returned to China. The assembly also called for formation of a Southeast Asia Union against Communism and it criticized the US Recovery Program for Japan.... The resolution criticizing the US contained 14 points, including a demand for a 50 yr occupation and stringent control of Japanese economy....

AP Nanking 21 Apr:... Proponents said long time allied control was essential to uproot militarism in the Japanese Islands. A resolution supporting the proposed peace treaty and long allied control was passed by the assembly.... It asked that the throne be abolished and a true democracy be set up. It urged that all secret societies be wiped out...

NY Times Correspondent Tillman Durbin, Hankow 19 Apr:.. Aside from the effects of the governments military operations, one reason for the Communist failure may be the suffering that their guerrilla operations have caused to the peasantry. The brutal liquidation of the landowners, the representatives of the old order of things, has outraged a wide section of the rural population.

NY Times, Seoul 21 Apr: Lt Gen John R Hodge, US Commander in Korea, today announced his approval of death sentences for 2 Koreans convicted of the murder of Chang Duk Soo last Dec.

UP Seoul 21 Apr: The American Mil Governor today authorized Korean civil officials to deputize a virtually unlimited nbr of "local patriotic Koreans" to help police keep order.... Maj Gen William Dean, the US Mil Governor, fears Communists will attempt to disrupt elections May 10 in the American occupied zone....

NY Times Correspondent Richard J H Johnston, Seoul 21 Apr: The Soviet sponsored North-South Korea Conference for the establishment of a Korean "National Govt" in defiance of the UN appeared today to be ready to open in Pyongyang, capital of the Soviet Occupation Zone.... The 2 men are self appointed representatives of South Korea in the conference arranged by the Soviet Union through the Communist controlled puppet govt in North Korea....

Dr Kim Koo, an extreme Rightist, and Dr Kimm Kiusic, known here as a middle of the roader, assert that they decided to attend the conference after the UN Committee's decision to go ahead with an observed election in South Korea. The Russians have refused to recognize the legality of the UN Commission and barred it from their occupation zone.... Utilizing the nominal, if tenuous, South Korea representation

Request comments and suggestions on draft proposed DA
Cir "Army Dissemination of Political Matter."

"1. Policy:

"A. Any dissemination of political news by the DA must be made on an impartial and non-partisan basis. It is the duty of commanders to inform appropriate personnel of this policy and to supplement it where necessary.

"B. The American soldier, as a citizen, has an interest in information concerning political matters within the United States. It is appropriate for the Army to make available to its personnel stationed outside the Continental United States sufficient current political information to enable them to vote intelligently.

"2. Application of policy:

"A. Federal funds. Any material which is paid for in whole or in part with federal funds or sponsored by the Federal Govt, when considered in its entirety, must not contain political propaganda obviously designated to affect the result of any election for federal office or obviously calculated to create bias for or against a particular candidate in any such election.

"B. Radio:

"(1) Overseas radio stations controlled by the Army are authorized to broadcast political news of a factual nature furnished by national recognized United States news services. Political news broadcasts will not include comment, criticism, analysis or interpretation.

"(2) Shortwave broadcasting stations controlled by the Army are authorized to broadcast political news of a factual nature released by the State Department or by nationally recognized United States news services.

"(3) Political addresses over radio stations controlled by the Army will be restricted to transcriptions distributed by Armed Forces Radio Service. Addresses of presidential candidates should be scheduled during the most advantageous listening hour of the day. Adequate advance notice should be broadcast, giving the date and hours of address.

"C. Newspapers:

"(1) Army newspapers will not contain political editorial nor will they include comment, criticism, analysis or interpretation of news of a political nature.

"(2) Theater-wide newspapers published by the Army and distributed throughout a major command, such as the Stars and Stripes which normally carries world news, will include coverage and be a faithful reflection of political news of a factual nature procured from nationally recognized United States news services.

"(3) Local newspapers (those other than theater-wide newspapers) will contain no political news."

AP Nanking 20 Apr: 4 candidates were locked today in a battle so bitter for China's vice presidency that it threatened the unity of the Kuomintang, the ruling party. . . .

Phila Bulletin editorial, 20 Apr: China has a new president and a new constitution. But both fit well the old French saying that the more it changes the more it is the same thing. . . . The new constitution was drawn up at Chiang's instigation to give the country a more democratic form. . . . The constitution was amended to give the president virtual dictatorial powers intended, no doubt, to continue while the civil war lasts. From this instance it's easy to say what ought to be done in China and it's equally easy to misjudge whether what ought to be done can be done. There was plenty of criticism in the assembly of the Govts bungling in prosecuting the war and of corruption, but evidently the facts of civil war are so overpowering that no one yet has conceived a better leadership than that offered by the Kuomintang Nationalists.

NY Times correspondent Tillman Durdin, Changsha 18 Apr: In Nanking's designs for utilizing of American financial aid and building up South China as an anti-Communist base Hunan Province occupies a key position. . . . Coal and food from Hunan are essential to Dr T V Soong's plans for Kwangtung Province's advancement. . . . Governor Wang and a staff of Chinese engrs, most of them American educated, have schemes for making Hunan the most developed province in China.

UP Seoul 21 Apr: Telephone lines between Seoul and its port city of Inchon were slashed today in a mounting wave of leftist violence and sabotage that already has claimed at least 20 lives in the last 10 days. . . . The sabotage was stepped up to coincide with a Korean political meeting called at Pyongyang, capital of Russian Northern Zone. . . . American authorities blamed most of the troubles on leftists who "intend to spread disorder just for disorder's sake." . . . The Soviets won 2 high cards in their game of political poker when Kim Kwi, head of the Interim Assembly of the Southern Zone, and Kim Koo, another rightist from Southern Korea, went to the conference.

Radio commentator Bill Costello, CBS News of the World from Seoul 20 Apr: . . . In their minds there is an obvious parallel between events in Italy and in Korea. In both cases, Eastern and Western political methods are in open conflict. Many Koreans fear the struggle against Communism has already been lost, are convinced that sooner or later, the Communists will take over in the Southern as well as in the Northern Zone.

Reourad Apr W 80090. Fol press release was made by the Export-Import Bank of Wash on Apr 21, 1948:

"For immediate release. The Board of Directors of the Export-Import Bank of Wash today authorized participation to the extent of $29,000,000 by the bank with a gp of commercial banks in a $60,000,000 revolving credit in favor of the Occupied Japan Export-Import Revolving Fund to finance the purchase and exportation to Japan of US cotton including cotton linters and waste.

"The credit will not become operative until the agreement has been executed both in the US and in Japan. Establishment of the credit resulted from discussions between the DA, Wash, DC, acting on behalf of SCAP, and commercial banks of which 3 have br offices in Japan. The Occupied Japan Export-Import Revolving Fund was established by SCAP for the purpose of providing a credit base and a means for financing, primarily on a self-liquidating basis, Japanese imports and exports of commodities and services which are required for the achievement of the objectives and policies of the occupation and accordingly transferred to the fund and its controller gold valued at approx US $104,000,000, silver valued at approx US $18,000,000 and cash US $378,000.

"The cotton to be financed under the credit will be purchased by means of bank ltrs of credit, opened upon application of the controller of the fund in favor of US cotton shippers. The controller may furnish notes maturing from 30 days to 10 months from the dates of pmt of shippers' sight drafts with interest payable at rates varying from 2½% to 3½% per annum. It is expected that 40% of the textiles processed from the cotton financed under the credit will be consumed in Japan and that the remaining 60% will be sold in the customary pre-war Japanese export markets for dollars or currencies convertible into dollars.

NY Times Correspondent Tillman Durdin, Changsh A, Hunan, China
17 Apr: In their need for a medium of exchange with stable value the Hunanese are turning increasingly to the use of silver.
Old silver dollars that were quietly hidden instead of being turned in to the banks when China went off the silver standard 13 yrs ago are reappearing. . . . With the National currency's value decreasing the peasants in some parts of Hunan refuse to accept notes for farm produce and insist on silver dollars or some other commodity of enduring value. . . . Govt agencies are rather half heartedly attempting to prohibit the use of silver as currency and when an open exchange of metal in return for goods is discovered by the police they force the possessors to hand over the silver to the banks in return for notes at the rate of 1 dollar in currency to 1 silver dollar. This is the same thing as confiscation, since 1 chinese currency dollar is worth only a minute fraction of an American penny. . . .

AP Nanking 19 Apr: With perfunctory clam the National Assembly today elected Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek president of China, but a bitter battle was developing over the vice president. The incumbent, Sun Fo, appears to have govt party (Kuomintang) support.
He is hotly opposed by Gen Li Tsung Jen. . . . Gen Li's Managers said if he lost he would resign as director of Chiang's Peiping Hq and would organize a reform movement. . . .

NY Herald Tribune correspondent Christopher Rand, Shanghai 19 Apr: The delegates from China's racial minorities to the National Assembly will go home disappointed once more. . . . According to minority representatives, their movement in 1946 was broken by a divide and rule tactics on the part of the Kuomintang management. Top Kuomintang leaders also told them flatly that force is what counts in the modern world—that small peoples have to subordinate themselves completely to neighboring big peoples, and should resign themselves to the fact. . . . Although there are shining exceptions, China's leaders generally believe that their own type of civilization is superior. . . .

NY Herald Tribune editorial 20 Apr: The meeting of the National Assembly in Nanking has produced no real change in the picture in China. Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek has been re-elected president, despite protestations that he did not want the job, and will be the 1st constitutional executive of the country. He will not only continue to hold his present office but will hold it with a grant of emergency powers that almost nullify the checks and balances of the new constitution. For a time, however, his proposal that he take an office of less prestige so that Dr Hu Shih could be elected president seemed to provide hope that a new spirit might prevail in Nanking, and that the effort to defeat the Chinese Communists with military power alone might be abandoned. . . . American observers of China who hope for the defeat of the Reds in the Civil War regard it as highly unfortunate that Chinese Liberals of great attainments such as Dr Hu, has so little influence in their country. These men, if they had power, should be able to provide an alternative to communism far more attractive than anything the Reds have to offer. While they are consulted now and then, their advice seems to be given less weight than that of generals and politicians notable only for long records of disastrous failure. When the Generalissimo proposed that Dr Hu be given the nation's highest office and then, after a little argument, changed his mind the net result was to emphasize once more that talent is being wasted in China and that the outlook there certainly is not bright.

NY Times, Seoul Apr 17: Reports that the Soviet authorities in North Korea have threatened to cut off South Korea's electric power, have caused annoyance within the Army's high command here. It must be reported 1st, that no such threats have been made officially by the Soviet Union and 2d, that the circumstances giving rise to these reports appear to be misunderstood. During the last year, the Russians have been attempting through means sometimes subtle and sometimes ostentatious, to force the US authorities in South Korea to recognize their North Korean puppet government.....

However, it is accepted here that the Soviet puppet government will not and cannot take such an action unless it is so directed by the Soviet authorities....

The Russians have used this implied threat as a bludgeon with which to attempt to force the American command, as well as the government of the US to grant recognition to their puppet government in North Korea.

Hopeh Province by capturing 4 important bases in 6 days. Nationalist supporters and foreign analysts alike, however, tempered credence with caution. . . . Foreign observers took the view that regardless of the scope of the govt success, it did mark an important change in tactics. For a long time, they pointed out, it has been the Communists who hit weakly defended Nationalist positions and then moved off before they themselves could be hurt. If the govt now is doing this, it may mark a real stride. Success of the tactics for either side depends a great deal on sympathies of the population. Reports from many different Chinese and foreign sources say the Communists are not so popular with the people as they once were. . . .

Following cases now pending in CSPID re correspondents. Your views and comments will be appreciated in order make proper decision. Legation of Lebanon has asked that Mrs Mru Yourma Soubra, wife of Sherif Soubra, official trade representative of Lebanon in Japan, be recognized as the correspondent for "La Revue Du Liban." Italian Embassy also continues interest in securing recognition for Leon Weilschott as correspondent for Il Tempo of Rome.

Weilschott also presently in Tokyo as resident. Neither can be considered a full time correspondent according to best info avail here. Is there any basis we can recognize without giving them full credentials and facilities?

New subj: Emily V Warriner of Hawaii is asking permission to come Japan for 6 week period in order do research for biography of Manjuro Nakaham. She also would desire to bring a secy to assist. CSPID has received no info regarding publication of book when completed or publishing house concerned.

In past theater and CSPID have not favorably considered applications for the sole purpose of securing info for book manuscripts. Can you give us theater viewpoint on this policy as well as your recommendations on individual case of Miss Warriner, who was formerly of staff of Honolulu Star Bulletin?

Washington Evening Star correspondent A Doak Barnett, Taiyuan Shansi Province 16 Apr: An "Air Bridge" that dwarfs the one the western allies set up in Germany to thwart Soviet inspection of railway trains operates in this capital in remote Northwest China. And like that in Berlin, it outsmarts the Reds. Out of this unique industrial ctr, cement, iron and steel are being exported in quantity by air to factories in non-Communist China while Marshal Yen Hsi-Shan holds off Red forces literally outside his gates. . . .

If the Communists launch a full-scale attack on Taiyuan in the next few weeks or months, capture of Yen's industries and arsenals will undoubtedly be their maj objective.

New York Times correspondent Henry R Lieberman, Nanking 16 Apr: The reelection of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek as President of China appeared virtually certain tonight despite the reluctance he expressed 11 days ago to run for office.

According to a reliable source the Generalissimo agreed to run for the Presidency after Kuomintang leaders rejected his proposal that the party support a non-Partisan candidate and that he take up the post of premier. . . .

New York Herald Tribune correspondent Christopher Rand, Nanking 16 Apr: China's National Assembly, regardless of its other merits or shortcomings, is at least useful as a sounding board for provincial grievances. This is not the desire of the authorities here in the capital. . . .

From the delegates' present behavior, it is clear they have been waiting for the chance. . . .

They show every sign of having promised to tell Nanking off when they came to the assembly. The chief complaint thus far has been about the govt's handling of mil affairs.

Generalissimo Chiang gave an over-all and misleading account of the mil situation on Friday. It failed to head off the protests. . . .

There is little doubt that the Northerners are correct, though they are probably exaggerating here and there. The govt does distrust the local leaders and people in the North and as a result has great trouble holding their allegiance. It does conduct the Army in a stupid bureaucratic manner, with Nanking interfering unrealistically at every turn, and often disastrously. . . .

UP Tokyo (unpublished) 15 Apr: Maj Gen Ira T Wyche, US Army IG, is expected to arrive in Tokyo tomorrow for a "routine" inspection of Gen Douglas MacArthur's Hq and the FEC. Officials said it was normal peacetime procedure for the Army's Chief Inspector personally to visit overseas commands about once a year. It was not known here whether Wyche would visit other commands under Gen MacArthur in Korea, the Philippines, the Ryukyus and the Marianas.

UP Wash, 14 Apr: American officials said tonight that the Peoples Political Council, the Govt of Soviet-occupied North Korea, has demanded that the US pay thousands of dollars for electric power supplied from North Korea to American-occupied South Korea since last May, or face a shutdown. No deadline was set.

UP Wash Post, 15 Apr: Russia has begun putting pressure on American occupation forces in Southern Korea by threatening to cut off the zone's electric power, govt officials disclosed yesterday. . . . officials here said the Russian threats have been made indirectly through the Communist Puppet Govt in Northern Korea.

AP Seoul, 14 Apr: Lt Gen John R Hodge, US Occupation Commander, last week called the proposed unity conference in the North a Soviet move toward gaining control of all Korea "by fair means or foul." In a press statement today, Hodge said that the registration of 8,000,000 adults, more than 90% of the total eligible in South Korea for the May 10 election, "gives the lie to the loud Communists and their

New York Times Nanking 15 Apr: Foreign Minister Wang Shih-Chieh expressed dissatisfaction with Sino-Soviet relations today in a report listing 4 major unfulfilled obligations that, he said, had been assumed by Moscow under the 1945 "Treaty of Friendship and Alliance". . . . Dr Wang told the Assembly that the new US aid to China demonstrated the "fundamental soundness of Sino-American friendship" despite criticism of the Central Govt during the past 4 yrs. He said that much of the criticism was "legitimate," but added that some of it was the result of "malicious Communist propaganda." Like a number of other Chinese officials, Dr Wang indicated concern over recent developments, interpreted in govt circles as signs of a new US policy to build up Japan. . . .

New York Herald Tribune editorial 15 Apr: The trend of events in China is shown both by the bitter criticism of the Nanking Govt by members of the Nat Assembly, who were supposed to elect a president to serve under the new constitution and then meekly go home, and by the student strikes in the universities. Individual members of the Assembly, could have condemned the govt for inefficiency in the civil war. . . . What is happening confirms earlier evidence indicating that the govt has lost the support of many of the intellectuals of China. The worst of it is that a good many of the intellectuals especially the younger ones, seem to be drifting toward outright support of the Communists. . . . Unfortunately, the govt has done so much to alienate these liberals that it has been creating new critics at a time when it most needs friends.

Washington Daily News editorial 15 Apr: Gen Bradley told Congress yesterday that the cold war was likely to last a long time. "We can't conceive of Russia calling it off within the next few years," he said. While a cold war is preferred to a shooting war, let it not be overlooked that there is one place on the globe where the cold war is hot. There is one nation that has been firing bullets at communist forces, and has been doing it for more than 2 yrs. It is China. . . . Communism is our acknowledged enemy, but we are not helping China beyond a nominal figure of $570,000,000 "to help retard the present rapid rate of economic deterioration and thus provide a breathing space." About a fifth of that we will let Chiang use for munitions during the coming year. If there is to be no more financial aid for China, there is another way we can help, probably even more effective. Chiang is instituting a new strategy, he reports, designed to free a maximum nbr of troops for offense against the Communists. We can furnish instructors and mil advisers to the Nationalist side-an urgent need, according to Gens Wedemeyer and Chennault. An American mission of nearly 1,000 is already in China, sitting in enforced idleness. They could lend a valuable tactical hand in the forthcoming campaign.
