SENTENCE:

1. LEOPOLDO PRUDENCIO, To be confined at hard labor for six (6) months.
 (One conviction considered.)
2. ROMULO AGUIRRE, To be confined at hard labor for four (4) months.
3. LEONCIO MIRANDA, To be confined at hard labor for three (3) months.

MAXIMUM PUNISHMENT: To be confined at hard labor not to exceed six (6) months, Dishonorable discharge and forfeiture of pay and allowance due and to become due.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

The accused herein were all prosecuted for violation of the provision of the 95th Article of War. On 5 February 1946, they were all arraigned before the Special Court Martial, under the same charge and specification and all of them pleaded NOT GUILTY to both charge and specification. There being no motion for separate trial filed by any one of them, the court proceeded to try their case jointly for the same charge and the specification thereunder.

EVIDENCE.-

For the Prosecution:- On or about 1830 hours, 5 January 1946, the accused were all apprehended by Maj. Salvador, the then Provost Marshal, at Camp Murphy, while they were with the army truck parked at Santolan road near the place of the 2nd Army Band. The Provost Marshal finding three sacks of rice in the truck <sup>questioned</sup> the accused about it answered that they intended to sell the same to the members of the Army Band. Just then the accused were turned over to the MP Detachment for investigation. Lt Sorcan and Lt Pascual conducted the investigation and in the said investigation, it appeared that they were assigned to haul rice in the army supply Depot. Coming back to Camp Murphy, they unloaded the rice in the Camp Bodega. After the unloading there were three sacks left which could have been an overage in their requisition. Sgt. Aguirre testified that he consulted Lt Garcia about the overage to which fact Lt. Garcia instructed him to leave the rice in the truck for further disposition.

The intended sale to the members of the Army Band of the said rice was frustrated on account of the arrival of the Provost Marshal who effected the apprehension of the accused.

The Storage Officer testified that he assigned the accused to haul rice on 5 January 1946. That the accused were ~~assigned~~ to unload 100 sacks of rice in the Bodega, after which there were left three (3) more sacks in the truck. The accused were instructed to leave the rice in the truck and in spite of the said instruction, they left and took the rice with them. The intended sale of the said rice was revealed by one of the witnesses, Pvt. Are who was also detailed to haul rice but went home after unloading due to an understanding that he will be given a share in the proceeds of the same.

For the Defense.- The accused after being duly warned of their rights by the defense counsel and the Court, elected to testify under oath, restricting their testimony to the charge and specification herein. They testified in substance as follows: They were assigned to haul rice from the Depot at Base X, on 5 January 1946. After coming from the Depot they proceeded to Camp Murphy and reported to Lt. Garcia, storage officer, who instructed them to unload the sacks of rice to the Camp Bodega. After unloading they found out that there was an overage of three (3) sack of rice which were left in the truck.

Sgt. Aguirre testified that he consulted Lt. Garcia about the overage and said officer instructed him to leave the rice in the truck for he was too busy checking other supplies that just arrived. In the meanwhile, they went out of Camp to eat their supper and parked the truck on the road to Santolan near the place of the 2nd Army Band.

They were apprehended by an officer who came down from a command car and later identified as Major Salvador, Provost Marshal at Camp Murphy, who took them to the office of the MP Detachment for investigation.

The accused denied having had the intention to sell the rice to the members of the Army Band This testimony created a discrepancy of facts adduced during the pre-trial investigation of this case in that they admitted their intended sale of the said rice.

COMMENTS.

The record is legally sufficient to support the findings and sentence.

The crime imputed to the accused was fully established by the prosecution and uncontradicted by the defense with the aggravating circumstances of nocturnity and use of vehicle to conceal the clandestine act. However, we could not sustain the contention that the accused eluded the guards for the reason that the guards should always be on the alert to impose his power and authority during his period of detail. To sustain this idea would be giving cause for believing that the guards were negligent in the performance of their duties or that they have not done their <sup>duty</sup> at all.

The court properly considered the previous conviction of one of the accused, Leopoldo Prudencio, and therefore the maximum penalty imposed upon him is also proper.

There was no finding of previous convictions with respect to the other accused.

There were no errors or irregularities committed which injuriously affected the substantial rights of the accused.

RECOMMENDATION.-

a. Civilian background.- The accused are all single, young in age and fair education. They have a working knowledge of the English language. Before enlisting in the army they are all students in the high school except the other accused Leopoldo Prudencio, who barely reached the 4th grade elementary education. They have no civilian police record and consequently they have a fair civilian background.

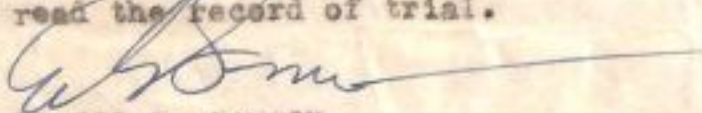

b. Military background.- The accused Leopoldo Prudencio, is an Ex-Usaffee. He enlisted in the army on September 1941 and during the Eataan Campaign he was confined in the Little Baguio <sup>Hospital</sup> to the surrender of Eataan in 1942. The <sup>other</sup> accused were former members of the Guerrilla Forces, stationed in the Central Luzon Provinces. They have no prior service in the Army, before joining the Guerrilla Forces, except the little training in the high school. They have no record of conviction since the date they were processed except this one. With respect to the accused Leopoldo Prudencio, he was formerly convicted by the court for violation of the 95th AW, on 12 October 1945.

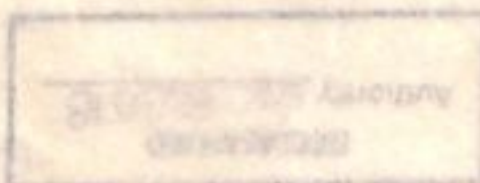

c. Recommended action.- The accused have fair civilian and military background and although they committed the crime imputed against them it is nonetheless serious. The court after considering the previous conviction of the accused Leopoldo Prudencio, properly impose the maximum penalty. The sentence of the court indicated above is not excessive. It is therefore recommended that the sentence be approved and will be duly executed. The Camp Stockade at Camp Murphy, Rizal is the appropriate place of confinement.

c. A form of action designed to carry this recommendation into effect is attached hereto.

(Thru The Adjutant General, PA, APO 500)

1. The receipt of the papers pertaining to a purported case against Major ANSEL J. LAUREL (MC), formerly of your command, is hereby acknowledged. However, it appears that no formal charges have been preferred against him pursuant to AW 71.

2. This Headquarters is of the opinion that unless charges have previously been preferred against Major LAUREL, he does not stand accused of any crime or offense. Consequently, all the previous proceedings of which the papers received are supposed to be a record cannot be validly treated as a compliance of the preliminary investigation required by Sec. 35, NCM and AW 71. Four pages of typewritten sheets in duplicate apparently intended and taken as the charges and specifications against Major LAUREL were among the papers received. These intended charges and specifications have NOT, however, been "signed under oath by a person subject to military law affirming either he has personal knowledge of, or has investigated, the matters set forth therein and that the same are true in fact, to the best of his knowledge and belief" (Par. 1, AW 71). Major LAUREL cannot therefore be forcibly made to answer for an offense or a crime for which he has NOT been validly charged or accused.

3. For the proper guidance of this Headquarters in the disposition of the papers referred to above, your legal views on the subject as well as any pertinent and informative data on the matter are requested.
