Msg No 1

30 January 1945

Subject: New CP
To : Executive Officer, 2nd Bn, 14th Inf

1. Advice per letter HQ, 2nd Bn, dated 25 January 1945 to this command, re transfer of Bn CP to this area, be informed that the Bn personnel ~~have~~ will definitely start from old Bn CP today. So they must be on their way now.
2. The Bn Comdr is expecting from the Executive Officer that the new CP is already set-up.
3. I am also directed to send an escort of armed men and two guides to meet them on relay station connecting company "H".
4. Problem of food supplies is their worry in Vizcaya, and so they requested us to prepare foodstuff at the supposed relay station they will stop. I am directing our Supply Sergeant to send immediately some of the supplies. However the suggestion and help of the Executive Officer is urgently requested.
5. This is now high time for this company where the beloved Executive Officer has once been in command to prepare a real surprise to the big fishes and let them enjoy their real Isabela life.
6. RUSH response re food problem is requested.
7. Regards and good luck.

and we balanced it by a known weight  $W$  hung at the proper point on the other side: We let  $l$  represent the distance of  $X$  from the fulcrum. By applying the principle of moments, we computed the value of  $X$ . We weighed the unknown weight  $X$ , and found to be equal to that of (the) its weight found in the lever.

(d) We hung from different points on the left side an unknown weight  $X$  and a known weight  $W_1$ ; and we balanced it by two known weights  $W_2$  and  $W_3$ , placed at different points on the other side. We let  $l$  represent the distance of  $X$  from the fulcrum. We computed the weight of the unknown body. We also took the weight of the unknown body by direct weighing. We compared them and found to be almost the same.

(e) We slipped the knife-edge C (see drawing) to some point O such that OC is 10-15 cm, and clamped. Then we slipped a known weight  $W$ , of 200 g., along between B and C until the beam rested horizontally when placed in the support. Then by applying the principle of moments, we found the weight of the beam on the assumption that the whole weight or effect of the earth's attraction on the beam is equivalent to one single force equal to the whole weight of the beam and applied at the first position of the knife-edge; that is, at C, the center of gravity of the beam. If  $X$  represented the weight of the beam, the principle of moments then gives  $X \times \text{distance } CO = \text{known weight} \times \text{its distance from } O$ . The result was the same.

-II-Effect of tension on the vibration rate of a stretched wire.

(a) We set up side by side two boards, both of which are provided with No. 00 piano wire. We placed the bridges  $b$  at the same distance, say 60 cm., each from the left end. We produced the same tension in the two wires by hanging from each a like weight (for example, a pail containing a small amount of water). The weights should be of such size as to produce in the plucked wires a low but perfectly distinct musical note. We brought the two wires into exact unison by adjusting the water in one of the pails until no beats were heard when the strings were sounded together. We found the exact tension on one of the wires by weighing the pail and water carefully with a spring balance. We produced the exact octave on the other wire by moving the bridge until the wire was only one-half as long as the first. We brought the first wire <sup>into</sup> unison with it by adding water to the pail, leaving the length exactly as the first. We weighed the pail and water again, and found the ratio of the weights in the two cases. In order to double the rate, the stretching force must be multiplied by 4.

(b) We made the second wire just two-third its original length, its tension still being kept constant. Its vibration number will change to the ratio  $\frac{3}{2}$  is to 1. We adjusted the amount of water in the pail hanging from the first wire until the two were in unison. We weighed it again on the spring balance.

TO : CO, 14th Infantry

1. In compliance with par. 12 of Training Directive No. 1 that HQ dated 20 Feb 45 requiring a detailed report as to what action has been taken regarding the requirements and instruction contained in the said Training Directive, the following actions were taken:

a. Training Directive No. 1 was endorsed to all Co Comdrs with further explanation and emphasis on the contents of pars. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 8 and 9 of this Directive.

b. All Co Comdrs were directed to assign one (1) officer or noncommissioned officer who is well-versed in the characteristics and manipulation of the different arms to conduct instruction until an appreciable proficiency in the correct handling and employment of these guns by our men is obtained.

c. All COs of this command were further advised that in the absence of an instructor, one officer or non-commissioned officer will be sent either to RHQ or BN HQ for detailed instructions.

d. The S-3 officer of this Bn has already lectured to the men of "G" Co re contents of Training Directive No. 1.

electromagnet was charged, hence the poles were reversed.

-VI - Dynamo:- We removed the electromagnet attachment, swung the permanent field magnet into place, and connected the motor to a galvanometer.

(a) We rotated the armature in one direction. The deflection of the galvanometer was from left to right and from right to left.

(b) We rotated the armature in opposite directions. The deflection was toward the right and in the opposite turn, the deflection was toward the left. This was so because the armature sent out magnetic lines of force in the opposite way.

(c) The deflection was toward the left.

(d) No greater deflection if the speed of rotation increased. If the speed was increased, greater numbers of magnetic lines of force were cut by the armature per second.

(e) The factors are:

1. Strength of the field magnets.
2. Speed of rotation.
3. Number of coil of the armature.

Subject: Raid of Japs at Umaem. Report of
To : CO, 2nd Bn, 74th Inf

1. Sending herewith a sketch of Umaem and adjacent barries covering the raid of this Co., at 5:40 AM this morning.

a. A combat patrol of 26 armed men led by Sgt. E. Teria and 1st Sgt. D. Marquez, attacked enemy position at Umaem at 5:40 AM this morning; 3 armed men posted as snipers at trail towards Sta Lucia marked (1) and 4 armed men posted at marked (2) as snipers and flank guards; 5 armed men at marked (2a) as support and reinforcement under Lt. A. Bitao; 5 armed men posted at marked (3) to harass enemy coming from Cadanglaan, north of Barebet Bridge under 1st Sgt. T. Batara; 5 armed men at marked (4) to cover withdrawal. At 5:00 AM I issued combat orders to Sgt. S. Emore at Sareza to open fire at Sta Lucia at 5:30 AM as a feint to keep the about 250 Japs thereat in their foxholes.

b. At 5:40 AM sharp, the Japs in 4 groups at marked (5) began praving. Our soldiers under Sgt. Teria have already occupied the foxholes of the Japs and started firing on them. After 30 minutes of firing, with little retaliation on the part of the enemy, everything was quite. Some of the Japs ran to town while some fled towards marked (6). Those at marked (7) tried to go across at marked (6). Immediately Sgt. Marquez and his men who were then occupying the Japs foxholes at marked (6) open fire and raise hell on the Japs that were approaching. After about an hour of exchanged firing, the Japs withdraw. Estimated casualty on the enemy ranges from 60 to 70 definitely killed and about 20 wounded. On our side none. After 5 minutes of lull, the MG mounted on the tower at the town opened fire so that our boys hit the ground instead of going to get some beast. Then followed the enemy reinforcement from the town, so that our boys had no alternative but to withdraw. However, their reinforcement did not give chase. I recalled a squad of the armed men and posted them at marked (8) and ordered Lt. Bitao and the rest of the armed men to fire at the banana plantations at Sta Lucia (marked 9) as Japs are stationed in this place which is about a plateau in strength. Firing started at 9:00 AM. After 20 minutes of firing, our men withdraw. Casualty on this engagement not yet ascertained.

2. Suggestions and recommendation:

At present there are around 250 Japs with 5 tanks at Sta Lucia. In this connection, request that I be given Unnumbered Msg.

To : CO, 14th Infantry, USAFIP, NL.

1. At last I arrived in my HQ in the morning of March 7th after two days and two nights march. I started from "H" Co HQ in Bongol at 12:00 noon, March 5th, slept at Diadi and started again at 2:00 A.M. the next day, arriving at the former Bn HQ in Stampa at 11:00 A.M. the same day. At dusk we started again for the Bn HQ at GULAK, walking the whole night, and most of the time through muddy ricefields, until we reached camp at 4:00 A.M. the next morning. Inspite of all the hardships during the march, everyone in the party was all right.

2. My staff and personnel are all O.K. and I found everything in shape. I have also inspected "G" Co, and all the men are intact. During the absence of Lts. Aban, Licups, and Domingo and their men, the enemy was reported to have sent patrols to the barrios near the camp and the Bn HQ had to be moved to the retreating camp for lack of armed men to meet the enemy. When I arrived we were expecting to be attacked anytime, as the enemy had already taken a complete sketch of the CP locations of both "G" and Bn HQ. True to our expectations, enemy patrol composed of around 10 men armed with machineguns and rifles tried to take us by surprise early in the morning of the 9th, but our men, everready in their foxholes, repulsed the enemy attempt and the enemy had to withdraw with three dead, leaving the carabao which they used to carry their machinegun. The next day, report was again received that enemy of undetermined number were again seen in the barrios near the CP so we had to move the Bn and "G" Co HQ about 2 kms. at the rear as the possibility of being attacked by surprise was very eminent. The Japs did not come that day, but on the following day, 11th March, at about 9:00 A.M. the enemy attempted again to break thru and this time about 200 infantrymen came, armed with machineguns, 1 BAR, and rifles. Again, our men gave them a hot reception and after 2 hours of firing, the enemy withdrew dragging along over 30 dead on their side. Maybe next time, the enemy will send a whole battalion, but whatever their intentions are, I have moved my HQ at LUCBAN, at the rear of the former CP of "G" company, "G" Co occupied their former CP.

3. I will be starting for Vizcaya on Wednesday, 14th March and my HQ will stay here until I have established the new Bn CP somewhere in Vizcaya side, and then my staff will follow.

4. I was still in "H" Co HQ when I learned that Nihong was shot by accident and later that day, I learned again that he expired.

Although I did not believe it, the news shocked me. I know how you feel about it, knowing his (the late Ninong) attachment to the CO, and I really feel sorry for the CO's loss of a gallant, capable officer and a pal.

5. Received your letters while you were in Hapid enroute to GHQ and hope that by now the CO is already back. We are also glad to know that the folks are all safe and sound and hope they are still there.

6. Here's wishing the CO continued success and good health.
